FINDS COMPETITION WITH BALTIC WOODS IS UNFAIRLY SEVERE

British Columbia Lumbermen Fail in Negotiations for Bulk Sales in British Market—Prices Too Low Due to Imports From State-Aided and State-Controlled Shippers

LONDON, Nov. 29 (CP).—H. J. Mackin, head of a delegation representing British Columbia timber interests which had sought increased markets in the United Kingdom for British Columbia softwoods, announced tonight negotiations had broken down and that he and J. G. Robson, other members of the delegation, would sail for home tomorrow.

In a statement handed to the press tonight, Mr. Mackin said that while it had made some progress in the way of extending sales, it had found competition from the timber producers of Northern Europe set such a low level for prices in Great Britain that, unless some change is made in existing conditions, it will be impossible to expect any material increase in shipments of British Columbia timber to this country.

HOPED FOR BULK SALES

"It is practically impossible for any ordinary commercial enterprise to compete with competitors who are state controlled or state aided," the statement said.

"Our delegation," it continued, "carried on negotiations with representatives of the Timber Trades Federation and at one time felt reasonably hopeful something could be done in the way of bulk sales. Unfortunately, the negotiations broke down.

"The actual and potential supply of timber from the producing areas that therefore supplied the market have kept, and are keeping, the level of prices below a figure that can successfully be met by Canadian producers," it added.

SITUATION WELL CANVASSED

The statement said the delegation had visited a large number of timber trade centres between London and Glasgow, and "felt they now have quite thoroughly canvassed the whole timber situation here, exploring marketing possibilities from the standpoint of producers in British Columbia, export agents, transportation and the channels through which timber moves after being landed from vessels in the United Kingdom."

The delegation declared it was pleased with the friendly reception it had been accorded by the British timber trade and by the trade's evident desire to further the sale and use of Empire soft woods.

B.C. Legislature May Convene at Middle of Month

THIRTY days' clear notice will be given by the Government to members of the Legislature, summoning them to the next session of the House, it was intimated by Premier Tolmie yesterday. The Government desires a short session, but will not block entry of such private bills as may be necessary in the public interest, he said. While no date has yet been announced, preparations at the Legislative Buildings would seem to point to a session starting some time in the last two weeks of January. The Government's own legislative programme will be short, it is believed, the length of the session depending chiefly on the events in the House itself.

BACK BENCHERS IN HOUSE REBEL

Bill to Unify London Transport System Proves Stumbling Block

LONDON, Nov. 29 (CP).—The National Government ran today into an exciting back-bench revolt over the London Transport Bill. For a time it seemed the impossible might happen, and the Government might be defeated on the floor of the House of Commons.

The bill, which is a Government measure, proposes to co-ordinate and unify the London transport system. Today the bill entered into committee stage.

IS LOUDLY CHEERED

G. Buchanan, a Labor Clydesider, raised the point that the amendments were so extensive the bill should be reintroduced. He was loudly cheered by the Government back benchers.

In the resulting division the total was 281 against 60, giving the Government a majority of 221.

Had the Government motion failed to carry it would have been a technical Government defeat and would probably have resulted in the withdrawal and resubmission of the bill.

WALKOUT FORCES STORES TO CLOSE

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 29 (AP).—All of Butte's larger stores were closed today with members of the Clerks' Union refusing to continue at work until a new wage agreement is signed.

Proprietors are understood to be determined on a month to month agreement, the union holding out for a year's contract.

Merchants say the union's action was a surprise. The larger department stores, drug stores and chain groceries were among those closed, but smaller establishments, which could be operated by the proprietors without additional help, remained open.

INVESTIGATION REFUSED

MONTREAL, Nov. 29 (CP).—Requests for a public investigation of the prisons of the Province of Quebec were refused today by Premier L. A. Taschereau, who was interviewed at the Provincial Government offices here by a delegation from the Canadian Labor Defence League.

MANY HOMES CONSTRUCTED

More Than 300 Houses Built in Greater Victoria at Cost of $635,688

Home construction in the Greater Victoria area passed the third century mark yesterday when figures for the eleven-month period of the current year were issued.

According to building inspectors' reports for Victoria, Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt, a total of 309 homes, valued at $635,688, have been constructed since the beginning of the year.

The reports reveal that Saanich is still leading all other municipalities in home building, with a total of 175 dwellings, valued at $243,790. Oak Bay is second with sixty homes, valued at $199,640; the city third with forty-six homes, valued at $131,100, and Esquimalt fourth with twenty-eight homes, valued at $61,158.

Total value of construction throughout the Greater Victoria area amounts to $904,280, made up of 1,279 permits. Victoria leads the list with 628 permits for $307,288 worth of construction; Saanich is second with 415 permits valued at $294,268; Oak Bay third with 179 permits valued at $230,540, and Esquimalt fourth with fifty-seven permits valued at $72,184.

BELGIAN GOVERNMENT RETURNED TO POWER

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Nov. 29 (CP).—The Catholic Liberal coalition remained in control of the Chamber of Deputies tonight following compliation of the heavy vote polled in Sunday's general election. The coalition controlled 103 votes as against eighty-four for the parties in opposition, much the same line-up as in the last chamber.

NEW ZEALAND SENDING NO RHODES SCHOLARS

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Nov. 29 (CP).—For the first time in history New Zealand will have no Rhodes scholars to send to Oxford this year. The selection committee examined five possible candidates, but concluded by making no awards.

Ounce and One-Third of Silver in Each Pound of Ore Sent From Bear Lake

International Copper Conference Opens Secretly in New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP).—Spokesmen for the world's largest copper companies, representing probably 90 per cent of the total copper production, began today their tug-of-war with some of the stubborn problems confronting that industry.

The new international conference, attended by a score of leading figures, including the leaders in the Canadian field, got under way without fanfare. In fact, delegates took considerable pains to slip into their session with the utmost secrecy. The meeting place was not divulged.

Delegates indicated they would issue no reports during the meetings unless there actually had been some progress.

Smelter Test Shows Fabulous Values in Products of New Field

RADIUM EXTRACTION PLANT BEING BUILT

(Special to The Colonist)

EDMONTON, Nov. 29.—Indication of the fabulous wealth of the Great Bear Lake mineral field is found in recent reports of returns from a shipment of ore handled at the Trail Smelter. The shipment was made in August, and figures recently made public reveal that the 21,490 pounds of ore contained 38,433 ounces of silver, valued at $11,000 after the cost of smelting was deducted, or 1.32 ounces of silver in each pound of ore.

The gross value of the shipment was $1,022 a ton after the smelting charges had been met. The value of the ore sacked at the mine was $816 a ton, transportation charges being $168 a ton from Great Bear Lake to Waterways and $38 a ton by rail from Waterways to the smelter at Trail.

STRENGTHENS CLAIMS

These figures would indicate that claims of the Great Bear Lake field being one of the richest silver areas in the world are not without foundation. In addition to glowing reports of silver ores, mining men and geologists have been predicting the area would prove to be a greater source of radium than the great radium mines of the Belgian Congo. They are now awaiting the results of a shipment of pitchblende, the radium ore, which was made by the same company that sent the silver ore to the Trail Smelter.

Vancouver Bandits Rob Longshoremen In Recreation Hall

Three Gunmen Stage Daylight Holdup, Collecting Several Pay Envelopes—Two Women Attacked but Succeed in Frightening Robbers

VANCOUVER, Nov. 29 (CP).—Armed with automatic pistols and well masked, three gangsters swooped on Longshoremen's Recreation Hall, Dunlevy Avenue, at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, and after lining up the occupants of the place against the wall and covering them with guns, relieved them of a total of $175.

Several of the dockworkers had received their pay envelopes earlier in the day, and the bandits had evidently planned the coup before the men had had an opportunity of spending their earnings or taking their money home.

FOUND MEN SERIOUS

When the bandit trio entered, some of the stevedores were engaged in card games for small stakes. "Stick 'em up, and move over to the wall," was the business-like command of the leader of the gang. Some of the stevedores thought that it was a joke and refused to obey the order, but when three guns were brandished, they soon submitted to search.

After collecting every cent they could find, the robbers backed out of the place and ran towards the waterfront, where an automobile with engine running awaited them.

WOMEN ATTACKED

Two bandits who held up Miss Hazel Barnes, Beatrice Street, Cedar Cottage, at the corner of Beatrice and Forty-Fourth on Tuesday night were frightened away by the approach of an automobile.

Miss M. Taylor, East Seventh, screamed for help when a man attempted to attack her at Scott Street and Seventh Avenue at 1:35 o'clock this morning. The man seized her by the throat but he fled when she gave battle.

T. Ohta, East Georgia Street, reported to the police that he was held up by two men near his home at 8 p.m., and robbed of $10.

PATENT OFFICE IS FEELING THE PINCH

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP).—Inventors may be inventing with all the vision and zeal they possessed in 1929, but they are not asking for as many patents to protect their brain children.

Thomas E. Robertson, commissioner of patents, in lamenting that his bureau is feeling the pinch of hard times most keenly, said 10,631 fewer applications were filed in the 1932 fiscal year than in 1931, and that they had dropped off 200 a week in the last five months.

Portuguese Claimed as Discoverer

SEVILLE, Spain, Nov. 29 (AP).—Documents indicating that the North American continent was discovered in 1452 by the Portuguese navigator, Pedro Vasquez de la Fontera, have been discovered, it was announced today, by the Portuguese historian, Cortesao, former director of the National Library at Lisbon, and now a political exile here.

In the archives of Latorre del Tombo, he said, he found documents which may prove that De la Fontera, in company with Diego Deleive, another Portuguese, precede Columbus by forty years.

PANAMA, Nov. 29 (AP).—Engineers reported that two workers at Madden Dam were drowned today when a raft was caught in the flood waters of the Chagres River and overturned. One body was recovered.

Nanaimo Pioneers Meet In Annual Celebration

NANAIMO, Nov. 29.—The times challenge the spirit of the West, V. B. Harrison, past grand factor of the Native Sons of British Columbia, told the Pioneer Association at its annual gathering in celebration of the landing of the Princess Royal, on November 29, 1854, with settlers for Nanaimo.

Mr. Harrison struck the keynote of the evening. Other speakers elaborated on the theme, pointing out that the story of pioneer struggle and achievement was an inspiration to the present generation in meeting the problems of the day.

The record of British Columbia pioneers was written day by day in The Colonist from 1858, it was pointed out. The files of that paper formed a record book of successful community building in the face of early adversity.

Old-time songs, romantic touches of early days and recital of almost forgotten incidents completed the programme of a gathering, which all voted to have been the most successful of its kind.

A pleasing feature of the entertainment was the presentation of a bouquet to Mrs. Julia Brown on her seventy-eighth birthday. She was born co-incident with the landing of the Princess Royal immigrants.

John Shaw presided as chairman. Mayor and Mrs. Barsby and B. A. McKelvie, Victoria, were guests.

BANK ROBBERS GET BIG LOOT

Half Million Stolen in New York—Big Sums Taken Elsewhere

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (CP).—Half a million dollars in United States Liberty bonds were stolen today from a paying teller's cage in the Continental Bank, in the heart of New York's financial district.

The teller, Robert Drummond, said the bonds, five of $100,000 each, disappeared from a shelf in his cage.

FILCHED FROM CAGE

Two other banks were robbed elsewhere in the United States. After bank officials absolved Drummond of any suspicion of any sort, investigating detectives advanced the belief the bonds were filched from the cage, possibly by a cane with gum on the end, while the teller was absent. Two strangers seen in the bank were sought.

Meantime, four Hartford, Conn., men were under arrest as a result of police search for a group of men who today looted the North Brookfield, Mass., Savings Bank of $1,300. Three bandits entered the bank during the night and awaited the arrival of the janitor, whom they overpowered. The bandits overpowered later arrivals as they waited for a time lock on the vault to give them ready access to the funds.

ROCHESTER'S FIRST

At Rochester, N.Y., four young bandits were successful today in engineering the first bank robbery in the city's century and a quarter of history, escaping with $3,000 in cash from the Clifford-Portland branch of the Lincoln Alliance Bank & Trust Co.

The robbers overlooked $20,000 in cash drawers in their hasty grab for the money on a teller's desk.

PUTTING FINISHING TOUCHES TO GREAT BRITAIN'S NOTE TO UNITED STATES ON WAR DEBT

Virtually Completed After Cabinet Session and Conference of His Majesty and Premier MacDonald—Case for Revision to Be Pressed but No Hint of Default

LONDON, Nov. 29 (AP).—Consideration of Britain's new war debt note to the United States was understood to have been virtually completed in a two-hour session of the Cabinet tonight, and it was expected the note would be dispatched tomorrow to Washington. It will be made public there, probably Thursday or Friday. The final form was not adopted at tonight's session, and further discussion will be held tomorrow.

The Cabinet meeting followed a one-hour conference between Premier MacDonald and the King at Buckingham Palace. While finishing touches were being put to the note, generally considered a request for suspension of the December payment of $95,550,000 and for review of the whole Anglo-American debt-funding agreement, the pound sterling dropped today to a new all-time low, $3.14⅝. It closed at $3.15⅛.

NO HINT OF DEFAULT

While it is understood Britain will press her case for revision in strong terms, there was a steadfast belief here that the December payment will be made promptly if the United States Congress does not yield. In no responsible Government quarter has there been a hint of default.

Contents of the new note will not be published until the time agreed upon by the two Governments. It will be made public simultaneously in both capitals.

There was considerable discussion of the method of payment to be adopted in the event that the United States insists on collecting. Among the men advocating payment in gold, which would come from the note coverage of the Bank of England, were Sir Robert Horne and Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, former Chancellors of the Exchequer.

WHAT AMERICA FEARS

Lord Reading, who recently returned from the United States, linked disarmament with the debts question during a debate tonight in the House of Lords. He contended Britain's position would have been strengthened if Britain had announced a clear-cut policy of co-

Cougar Bounties Are Restored by B.C. Government

ATTORNEY-General Pooley announced yesterday that the Government would immediately restore a bounty on cougars, at the rate of $10 per animal, to go into immediate effect and apply until March 31 next. The action was taken in response to representations of farmer organizations pleading havoc wrought by the cat-like marauders in sheep and other flocks.

REPARATIONS INTERLINKED

French Deputies Favor Declaration That War Debt Payment Impossible

PARIS, Nov. 29 (AP).—A considerable section of the Chamber of Deputies today strongly advocated an immediate declaration that it is impossible to pay the debts due the United States because such payments necessarily are linked to reparations.

Premier Edouard Herriot, promising the Government would not make any decision regarding the debt problem without informing the Chamber beforehand, did his utmost to stave off general debate on the question at this time.

DEBATE TOMORROW

It appeared tonight, however, that such a debate would develop Thursday, although it was reported M. Herriot was prepared to post a question of confidence if the Chambers insited on it.

In the Chamber lobbies there were numerous and lively private discussions of the debt issue. Surrounded by about 100 deputies, Henry Franklin-Bouillon, Left Radical, reproached Premier Herriot for his policy on the debts. It was M. Franklin-Bouillon's contention that France has been scandously timid in dealing with this question.

NO SUDDEN ACTION

The Premier assured the chairmen of the foreign affairs and finance committees of the Chamber the Government would take no debt action unless the Chamber had been informed. This promise also was given to the Chamber by Joseph Paganon, Under Secretary of State, after Deputy Louis Marin, Conservative leader, had declared France should pay the United States no more than she gets from Germany.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Nov. 29 (AP).—A panacea for unemployment was advanced today by William Holmes, British fraternal delegate to the American Federation of Labor convention.

"If we could just get the Hindu to add a foot to his shirt tail," said Holmes earnestly, "half the mills in England could go back to work again."

Crown for Best Sample of Rye Goes to Vernon Grower—Sidney Exhibitor Wins in Class for Field Peas

CHICAGO, Nov. 29 (CP).—As the awards in the international livestock exposition and the hay and grain show began to pile up, it was found that the Dominion had annexed eight crowns out of a possible fifteen, and scored heavily in all classes entered.

Vernon, British Columbia, turned in the biggest upset of the show today when M. S. Middleton captured the crown for the best sample of rye in the show, forcing the favorite, Albert Robbins, of Laura, Sask., to second place.

FORCED TO SECOND

In the durum wheat competitions, George Avery, of Kelso, Sask., scheduled to take the crown, was forced to second place by the showing of T. E. Smith's samples, which later took the reserve championship to Herman Trelle's winning sample of hard red spring wheat.

Alberta led in the capturing of the coveted crowns, with Herman Trelle accorded the most important honor in the show—the grain championship for the fourth time; while three other Albertans scored: Fred Hamm, of Goodfame, taking the oats crown; Fred Ohman taking the crown for alfalfa seed, West, which was the best of both divisions, and Erich Anderson, of Wembley, who took the timothy crown.

FLAX, PEAS AND BEANS

From Saskatchewan, George Avery, of Kelso, won the flax honors, and has taken two seconds to date in the exhibits he has entered.

In field peas, the competition was all among Canadian entrants. C. W. Sterling, of Sidney, took first in the large yellow field peas; while R. S. Lee, of Chatsworth, Ont., took the premier award in tall yellow. Erich Anderson, of Wembley, Alberta, was first in the any other color class.

Lee was given the crown, however, and Anderson the reserve championship.

FAMOUS SOVIET CALLED TO REST

Gregory S. Zinovieff Was Alleged to Have Written Letter Causing Break With Britain

MOSCOW, Nov. 29 (AP).—Gregory S. Zinovieff, of the "Zinovieff letter" fame, who was twice expelled from the inner councils of the Soviets by the powerful Joseph Stalin, died here today.

Zinovieff, who at one time was head of the Comintern (the Third Internationale), was forty-nine years old. The former powerful companion of Lenin, Trotzky and Stalin apparently died of a heart attack, although no public announcement of the cause of death was made.

It was Zinovieff who was alleged to have written the letter to British Communists in 1924 that led to the rupture of diplomatic relations with Great Britain. He and the Soviet authorities denied the allegation, however.

WHEAT TARIFF BEING TESTED

Shipment Made From U.S. Port to Settle Controversy Over Preference Rule

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (CP).—A decision of paramount importance to the grain and shipping trade of Canada and the United States will be made at Liverpool, England, next Wednesday. It is expected on that day British customs authorities will rule definitely one way or the other as to whether Canadian wheat shipped through United States ports on a through and direct consignment is eligible for the six cents per bushel preference.

So controversial has this clause of the United Kingdom's preference agreement with Canada proven the International Export Association, an organization of Canadian and United States grain shippers, has despatched a parcel of wheat to Liverpool as a test case.

THREE CARLOADS SENT

The grain, three carloads of it, was shipped from Fort William. The bill of lading was marked for "export to the United Kingdom."

Widespread interest has been aroused in the shipment on the part of grain traders, shippers and railroad authorities in Canada and the United States.

Should the British authorities refuse to grant preference on the test shipment, it will mean Canadian grain must be shipped by way of either Canadian Atlantic or Canadian Pacific Coast points.

FIND NEW CLUE IN BANDIT HUNT

VANCOUVER, Nov. 29.—Vancouver police today received a new clue in their search for the bandits who shot James Howard during the $2,000 payroll holdup of the Ross & Howard Iron Works, Ltd., on Friday.

W. F. H. Bucklin, Westbrook Crescent, University area, reported that at 4:55 p.m., Tuesday, two men answering the description of the bandits visited his home and asked for food. They were questioning the cook when Mr. Bucklin arrived. When they saw him they fled.

The condition of Mr. Howard is considerably improved and an operation to remove the bullet will probably be undertaken today.

Murderous Hail of Bullets Took Life of Storekeeper at Lytton

Shot three times in the back and twice from in front, the body of Lee Bing, Lytton storekeeper, had $100 in pockets of the clothing when examined by officers of the Provincial Police yesterday, in the first daylight investigation at the scene. The man had apparently been murdered some time during Sunday night, according to the autopsy, performed yesterday.

After the shooting, the body had been dragged four yards to the head of the cellar stairs in the store, and then pushed down the stairs. At present there is no clue to either the perpetrator or the reason for the killing.

HIT FIVE TIMES

Closer examination of the premises, a small general store formerly kept by Lee Bing across the river from Lytton, according to wireless advices to headquarters of the Provincial Police, showed that the man had been struck by five bullets fired from a .38 calibre weapon or weapons. Three of the bullets have been extracted from the remains.

Money found in the pockets of the murdered man was undisturbed, and other valuables about the place had not been touched. Whatever the motive for the crime, it was not robbery, the police say.

SURPRISE VISIT

Checking up at the scene yesterday, police officers found traces of a surprise visit of an assailant or assailants, culminating in a murderous fire on Lee Bing. A small-bore rifle was found in the store, but apparently had not entered into the gruesome tragedy enacted some time on Sunday night.

Lee Bing was reported missing on Monday and his body retrieved the same day in his cellar, after dark. The shooting was not at first discovered. An inquest will be held.

OUNCE AND ONE-THIRD OF SILVER IN POUND OF ORE FROM BEAR LAKE

This shipment of pitchblende amounted to fifty-five tons and was sent to Port Hope, Ont., where a refinery is in course of construction. It is believed the trial lot will yield about six grams of radium. If these expectations are realized, the value of the shipment at present prices will be in excess of $300,000.

SEASON OF ACTIVITY

The past Summer was one of great activity in the Great Bear Lake field, according to reports of the Dominion lands administration of the Department of the Interior. Development of the rich deposits of pitchblende and native silver discovered in the Echo Bay region was proceeded with, while development work was also advanced on the claims staked late in 1931.

The districts immediately surrounding the original discoveries at Echo Bay having been fully staked, new fields were sought during the past season. Promising discoveries were made in the Camsell River area to the south with the result that staking was extended from Conjuror Bay on Great Bear Lake to White Eagle Falls on Camsell River, a distance of ten miles.

BIG AREA STAKED

Since the discoveries at La Bine Point in 1930, records up to September 30 show that 2,694 claims have been staked, representing an area of 139,145 acres. It is estimated that 240 men were in the Great Bear Lake area during the past season engaged in prospecting or development work. While a few of these were independent prospectors, the majority represented companies or syndicates.

The big companies which have made discoveries have been concentrating their efforts for the most part on actual development work. Several have equipped parties of men to remain in the field during the Winter, and next season plan to press their operations with increased vigor. Meanwhile close study is being made of the operations during the busy season just closed.

operation or assistance for the American policy of armaments reduction by control of budgetary expenditures.

Lord Reading said the fear was expressed in America that if the war debt burden was reduced, European powers would be left with more money to spend on armaments.

"NO TINKERING"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP).—While administration officials remained uncommunicative, waiting the next war debt postponement moves from abroad, Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, pointed up congressional opposition today with a forcible assertion against any "tinkering" with the debts.

He and others were reluctant even to mention the debt subject, but the rapid spread of rumor did cause the Secretary of the Treasury to say there had been no official discussion of the possibility that Great Britain would make only the interest payment of $65,000,000 due on December 15, postponing the $30,000,000 principal payment.

Mills maintained the question had not been mentioned in his talk yesterday with Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British Ambassador.

COULD ARRANGE DELAY

Delay in her payment of the $30,000,000 on principal could be arranged under existing agreements by consent of the Secretary of the Treasury without congressional action. But any further concession to Great Britain, such as the right to pay in its own money and not make the transfer of gold, would require congressional action.

SITUATIONS MUST CLEAR AT HOME

Projected Five-Power Parley Dependent on Domestic Politics in France and Germany

PARIS, Nov. 29 (AP).—The projected five power parley at Geneva to bring Germany back into the disarmament conference, appeared tonight to be definitely dependent upon the clearing up of domestic political situations in France and Germany.

This was learned authoritatively today after Norman Davis and Allen Dulles, American disarmament representatives, talked with Premier Herriot and War Minister Joseph Paul-Boncour, continuing conversations of the past two days.

M. Herriot has the Chamber on his hands at present with the debt situation come to a head, while the delay in formation of a new Government in Germany also was holding up plans for the parley.

After the talk between the American and French diplomats, it was announced that an agreement had been reached on general lines for the projected discussion. Mr. Davis was hoping to return to Geneva tomorrow or Thursday.

TANKS SENT TO QUELL RIOTING

Anti-Semitic Demonstration Becomes Serious in Warsaw—Trouble Spreads

LWOW, Poland, Nov. 29 (AP).—Tanks and armored cars equipped with machine guns rolled into action today to stamp out riots involving Jews and anti-Semites, in which about 300 persons were injured.

The funeral of a Polish student, who was killed in similar disorders yesterday, was attended by 60,000 persons, and it turned into a huge anti-Semitic demonstration.

A Polish student returning from the funeral was shot by a marksman who fired from a window, and a short time later he died. This second fatality caused the authorities to fear new disturbances tomorrow, when memorial Masses will be said for today's victim.

The rioting spread to other cities.

WORLD PROGRESS DEBATE SUBJECT

St. Mark's Forum Grapples With Momentous Questions of Present Day

The St. Mark's Open Forum had a most interesting meeting last evening when four subjects were introduced by speakers and debated at length by those present. School Trustee P. E. George presided. P. D. Wilson spoke on the state, showing the development of it through the stages from that of the savage to the patriarchal and then to the military. This was the stage in which civilization found itself today, he stated. The speaker dealt with the capitalistic situation and particularly referred to abuses which, he contended, entered into the conditions in Canada today.

E. Bell dealt with the profit-taking system that prevailed in the world and pictured the increase in unemployment for the future. Rome had been forced to keep its unemployed quiet by armed force. The same might prevail again. He contended that Parliament did not rule, but that it was the judiciary, the army and the navy.

CONSCRIPTION OF WEALTH

A. Muir, dealing with the financial situation, believed that the capitalistic system had about reached its height. Money was in a few hands and the working man was not getting a chance. Many of those suffering today were the returned men who had fallen under the conscription of life, which was imposed by the State during the war. It was only fair today to conscript wealth, he believed.

J. W. Higham spoke on the subject of Russia and went into the question of whether that country in its latest move had any lessons for the British race. Contrasting the development of the British with hundreds of years' advancement in representative government and other blessings as compared with the few years during which these boons had been granted Russia, the speaker felt that there was not likely to be many lessons to be learned from present-day Russia. The stand of the Soviet Government against religion, with the consequent destruction of moral fiber in its people, was also alluded to as a step in a wrong direction.

ROBBERY YARN WAS DEFECTIVE

Mounted Police Found Discrepancies and Author Proved Fiction Maker

CALGARY, Nov. 29 (CP).—The Mounties once again have "got their man" and Martin Diegel, Chancellor elevator agent, has admitted it.

When Constable A. Batts, Gleichen, and Constable J. M. Cawsey, Bassano, rushed to the settlement of Chancellor to investigate Diegel's report he had been held up and robbed by two armed bandits in the National Elevator Company's grain elevator, in which he was the company's agent, they heard a vivid robbery yarn. Piecing the facts together, they found discrepancies in the story.

Suspicion mounting, the two R.C.M.P. officers learned the truth. Diegel admitted he had never been robbed, took the officers to where $225 was cached and admitted some of the company funds were missing.

Arraigned in police court here before Magistrate Walter Davidson today on a theft charge, Diegel confirmed his statements to police and asked for time to make restitution of the missing money, about $50. He will be arraigned again December 1.

SOCIETY GIRLS MAKING FLIGHT

Two Reach Southern Rhodesia in Course of Trip From London to Capetown

BULAWAYO, Southern Rhodesia, Nov. 29 (CP).—Two daring and adventuresome British society girls landed here today en route from England to Capetown. Only intermittent news had been heard of their progress, the two flyers taking the trip in easy stages, but considerable relief was felt here today as they had not been heard of since leaving Malakal in the Soudan several days ago.

The two girls, the Misses Joan Page, daughter of Hon. Sir Arthur Page, Chief Justice of Burma, and Audrey Salebarker, well-known skier, refused today to discuss their flight.

Youth Has Close Call In Storm

BELLINGHAM, Nov. 29 (AP).—Cold, wet and unconscious, John Coe, sixteen-year-old Seattle youth, was found on Chuckanut Drive tonight, where he had collapsed from lack of food in a gruelling storm of wind and rain, while riding his bicycle homeward from Blaine.

How long he had lain by the side of the highway, drenched by the rain and by muddy water splashed by passing cars, could not be learned.

The youth said he left Seattle, Monday, intending to visit an uncle in Vancouver. He came to Bellingham by boat, then pedalled to Blaine, but was refused entry in Canada because of his age.

Reindeer Making Good Progress

SEATTLE, Nov. 29 (AP).—Word that its herd of 3,500 reindeer, being driven along the Arctic Coast to Richard Island in the delta of the Mackenzie River, has passed Canning River, about 250 miles east of Point Barrow, was received here today by the Lomen Reindeer Company.

The herd, which has been purchased by the Canadian Government, is in charge of Andrew Bahr and ten herders. Trappers who returned to Point Barrow said both men and animals were in excellent condition.

Prince of Wales Has Radio in Car

LONDON, Nov. 29 (CP).—The Prince of Wales has had a wireless set built into one of his cars so that he will be able to listen to broadcast music as he travels. The set is not portable, but is built into the car in a box concealed under the footrests for passengers in the rear seats. The aerial is hidden in the roof.

The British Broadcasting Corporation has arranged for a series of talks on the first and third Sunday in each month during 1933, to be given under the general caption of "God and the World Through Christian Eyes." The first group will be on "God," the second on "Christ," the third on "Man and the World," the series closing with "Christianity." The lectures will be followed by prayers and hymns.

The Student Christian Movement in Canada, an organization promoting the religious life among college and university men and women, has decided to include mission study in its scheme of discussion topics.

CRITICS ARE SCORED BY INCUMBENT

Mayor Leeming Denounces Opponent in Giving Account of Stewardship

BALANCED BUDGET IS ACHIEVEMENT

Mayor David Leeming fought back at the critics of this year's council, and more particularly E. B. Andros, his opponent for the mayoralty, at the meeting last night in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium sponsored by Alderman P. R. Brown, chairman of the finance committee. Approximately 300 persons were present.

The airport, publicity bureau grant and marketing of the $300,000 bonds were some of the criticisms that were answered, but overshadowing these refutations was the mayor's resume of the business conducted this year.

"It is nothing but scandal-mongering by one who knows better, one who has had training in a bank, and his remarks are nothing but a nasty reflection upon the intelligence of anyone who knows anything about financing, Alderman Brown has given you the answer to the $300,000 bond issue. His answer is in accord with mine. I leave it with you whether any attention should be paid to such ridiculous charges as my opponent makes."

Thus did the mayor answer Mr. Andros.

AIRPORT QUESTION

On the airport question, the mayor said the council had not broken faith with the ratepayers. The much talked of airport by-law had been for the purchase of an airport and the expenditure of $250,000 in its development. The city in leasing the Gordon Head airport had merely continued its policy carried out in connection with the Lansdowne airport, which had been condemned by Federal authorities.

"What has this airport cost you? You will be astounded at the enormity of the figure. It is $1,600 and we haven't bought it and do not intend to. Figure the cost out for yourselves. If you pay $55 in taxes, that airport will have cost you five cents. Think of it, ladies and gentlemen! Five cents. What an enormous sum!" the mayor declared, amid applause.

In answer to a question put to him at the close of the meeting in connection with the publicity bureau grant, the mayor said that last year he had fought the question on every platform and that he did not propose to go over the same ground again. He was emphatically opposed to the cancellation of the grant and declared that the money was not contributed by the ratepayers, but by the licence-holders who had asked for the grant as a means of building up their business.

FINANCIAL ISSUE

The issue of paramount importance this year was one of finance, the mayor stated. Every department had underspent its appropriations to make the budget balance and despite that there was a shortage of $80,000 in the estimated revenue for the year, there would be a cash balanced budget at the end of this year. This had been accomplished by watching every expenditure at every meeting of the council. Departmental expenditures, he said, had been cut $150,000 this year from the 1930 total, the last normal year.

In compiling the budget at the beginning of this year, it became apparent that the city's needs would be $1,000,000 more than 1930. It was an increase of 60 per cent.

"This colossal increase," the mayor declared, "was met as follows: reductions in departmental expenditures, $153,000; refunding serial debentures $200,000; borrowing under new loan by-law, $500,000; increasing taxes over 1930, approximately $201,000.

TAX INCREASE

The increase in taxes amounted to 6 per cent and in order to prevent reversions of vacant land and thus lighten the burden on the home owner, the improvement tax was raised 10 per cent. The mayor declared that every piece of property he owned was of the improved type so that he was imposing nothing upon the ratepayers that he was not imposing upon himself. It had to be done to meet the burden placed upon the council in the way of extra social service costs turned over to municipalities by the Provincial Government.

Answering criticism regarding the taking of a survey, the mayor declared that the council of 1932 had showed its determination to handle matters when the survey was ordered and that it was more than any council in the past had had the courage to do.

The comptroller had been given new powers as a result of this survey which would redound to the economic benefit of the city. Certain of the recommendations of the survey had been carried out and other consolidations would be effected in the new year, he stated.

THE POLICE BOARD

The mayor answered criticism regarding the alteration in the constitution of the Board of Police Commissioners. He said it must have been obvious that the complaints of the magistrate must have been sufficiently serious to compel the Legislature to act in the matter.

"I offer no apology for any action of mine in connection with this matter, and in the interests of law and order in this community the City Council was compelled to adopt the only remedy open to it."

The mayor spoke of the harmony that existed on the police force, and alluded to the move on the part of Vancouver and New Westminster to establish a similar system of police administration as exists in Victoria.

A unique feature of tonight's concert will be introduced by Mr. Taylor, who will have several members of the orchestra conducting at various times during the evening.

LIQUOR STORE HOURS ALTERED

One-Man Vendors' Shops Will Open and Close Earlier Than Before

Bringing all liquor vendors' stores into line in regard to closing hours, the Government, yesterday, approved an amended regulation by the Liquor Control Board, setting 6 p.m. as the closing time for one-man liquor stores, heretofore open until 7 p.m. The one-man stores will be opened an hour earlier in the day to compensate for the change.

Commissioner W. F. Kennedy explained that in vendors' stores where only one man handled the business the original hours of normal operation had been from 10 o'clock in the morning until noon, and from 1 in the afternoon until 7 at night. These will now be altered to read from 9 a.m. to noon, and 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. All stores, thus, will close at the same hour, as premises with more than one employee now close at 6 p.m., with the exception of the Howe Street store in Vancouver, which remains unchanged.

The ruling does not apply to weekly half-holidays and Saturdays, in regard to which existing regulations will continue to apply.

REAL ESTATE AGENT CLAIMS COMMISSION ON PROPERTY SALES

An action in which Daniel F. Sprinkling, real estate agent, is claiming $284.85 commission on a sale of property he alleges he completed for Ralph Birtwhistle, was commenced in County Court here yesterday afternoon before Judge Peter S. Lampman, and at 4:30 o'clock was adjourned until this morning.

The plaintiff, who is represented by Norman W. Whittaker, claims he was the agent who effected the sale of the properties for which he was entitled to 5 per cent commission. Mr. Birtwhistle, represented by F. G. Fowkes, in his defence sets up that Mr. Sprinkling was not an authorized real estate agent at the time the sale was completed and that the original terms and transfer of the properties was changed after having been listed with Mr. Sprinkling.

Evidence of the plaintiff was completed during yesterday afternoon's hearing, and the defendant's testimony will be taken today.

CITY COUNCIL GIVES REPORT

Aldermen Recount Year's Activities and Pay Tribute to Mayor Leeming

With the exception of Alderman R. T. Williams, all members of the council who spoke at last night's meeting in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium accorded Mayor David Leeming tribute for his untiring efforts during the present year to pilot the city through its financial difficulties. Alderman Williams expressed no opinion at all, but confined his efforts to a pronouncement of what he planned to do if elected.

The other speakers all gave accounts of their stewardship. Capt. George McGregor, who was chairman, also paid tribute to the mayor and council as a whole for achieving what appeared to be the impossible this year in civic financing.

ANSWERS QUESTION

Alderman T. W. Hawkins, chairman of the fire wardens, dealt with fire protection and showed how the cost of this protection had been reduced $1,500 annually without impairing the efficiency of the department. In answer to a question regarding W. H. Mearns, secretary-manager of the British Columbia Agricultural Association, Alderman Hawkins said that Mr. Mearns had not received a $600 bonus for making the fair a success, but had been paid back wages, which were to have been withheld if the show did not prove a success.

"I am not here to defend myself," Alderman H. O. Litchfield declared. "It is you citizens who should owe us an eternal debt of gratitude for having seen the city safely through this trying year."

As chairman of the lands committee, he answered criticism leveled at that department by declaring the receipts up to the end of November had amounted to $28,000, and that the expenses had been $3,971, or 14 per cent of the income. This had been accomplished despite the economic situation.

RELIEF ADMINISTRATION

Alderman Alex Peden, chairman of the relief committee, said he was not seeking office, but felt it his duty to answer "the false and contemptible charges" made against this year's council. Every social service account and application for relief had been fully investigated, but the city also had done everything possible within its power to alleviate the distress caused by unemployment.

Alderman W. D. Todd, chairman of the industrial committee, spoke of the investigation made into telephone rates in the city and expressed the hope of yet securing a reduction. His committee had been instrumental in keeping down the price of gasoline and had encouraged the establishment of a motion picture studio here, he declared.

WANTS PLEBISCITE

Alderman R. T. Williams said if re-elected he would continue to work for a plebiscite on the publicity bureau grant and continue to agitate for legalized sweepstakes with which to finance hospitals.

Alderman John Worthington, chairman of the parks committee, spoke of the success that had attended his community spirit campaign. Sporting organizations had contributed $1,500 toward the Macdonald Estate park. Contribution also had been received for improvements to the Royal Athletic Park, Hollywood Park was being sponsored by public subscription and a movement was afoot to create a children's playground in the James Bay district by the James Bay Parent-Teacher Association. The city was always willing to assist those who were willing to assist themselves.

He outlined the improvements made in Beacon Hill Park, Horseshoe Bay, Royal Athletic Park, Mount Douglas Park, Gorge Park and many other places.

IRRIGATIONISTS MEET CABINET

Charges on Loans From Conservation Fund Come Under Review

Led by George Heggie, member for North Okanagan district, a delegation of Okanagan fruit growers and irrigationists will wait on the Government this afternoon to discuss charges with the Cabinet. It was learned yesterday at the Legislative Buildings. The party will arrive in the afternoon from the Mainland and will meet the Government at 4 p.m.

A few weeks ago the Government announced its policy in regard to payments to be made by all irrigation areas as at March next. These charges included what is known as the Sanford Evans scale, and interest at the rate of 6 per cent on new loans advanced since Mr. Evans made his report a few years ago.

Sinking fund levies, recently proposed, were later waived, the Government saying it would hear representations on this phase of the matter from the growers.

Approximately $130,000 has been advanced to irrigation districts this year from the conservation fund, mostly in Okanagan areas.

MAKE PLANS FOR WORK CAMPAIGN

Meeting Will Be Held in Chamber of Commerce on December 14 to Explain Undertaking

The plan which the Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring for the finding of work for unemployed in the city is far enough advanced now that it has been decided to call a meeting of those interested in the project for Wednesday, December 14. At that meeting the plans will be in shape to be outlined and the organization probably launched.

R. H. B. Ker, president of the Chamber of Commerce, says that in connection with the scheme there will be a lot of voluntary workers required if the plan is to be the success desired.

An invitation is extended to every organization in the city which will assist in the proposal to send representatives to the meeting. It is the hope of those in charge that at the meeting plans may be effected, and between that date and the first of the year, the necessary field work carried out so that early in 1933 a start may be made in actual employment.

The plan does not involve soliciting subscriptions. Rather it has for its object the stimulating of an effort to find employment for men who require it, and thus to start the wheels of industry going again.

MUNICIPAL POLITICS

There is a healthier and livelier interest in municipal politics during the present campaign than there has been for a number of years. The further that campaign progresses the more evident it becomes that public attention is centered on the question of economics and what may be done in this direction, not only to halt the increases of taxation that have taken place in recent years, but, if possible, to devise ways and means of giving relief to the property owners. It is a difficult problem at a time when so much money is required for unemployment relief and when that money is being found out of current revenue. It is, however, by far the better way that in relieving unemployment the city should pay as it goes.

Victoria is in the fortunate position this year of being able to balance its budget. In this respect it is doing better than perhaps any city in the West. That, too, must be the aim during 1933. To accomplish this it is evident that more economies must be put into force, and there are undoubtedly methods that can be devised, such as have been brought into play in private business, whereby many thousands of dollars can be shaved off the estimates as compared with the present year. In the minds of the ratepayers, and particularly among the property owners, there is a belief, whether it is right or wrong, that such economies can be instituted at the City Hall as will lead to some reduction in the mill rate. The citizens as a whole view the matter from the standpoint of the reduced returns that have attended their own investments in property. They are proportionately handicapped in ability to pay taxes on land and improvements, and they are anxiously looking for relief. This is the desire that should be kept in view by any administration that is elected to office. One of the ways of assisting in restoring prosperity is some mitigation of the taxation which has grown so burdensome in recent years.

It is because of what is the chief thought in the minds of the voters that all candidates for municipal office should be concentrating their attention on the question of economies affecting all civic expenditures. It may prove to be quite impossible to effect any reduction in the mill rate during 1933. What the nature of the task will be cannot be appraised until the estimates are submitted to the 1933 Council. It is well to remember, however, that what is wanted in these times is courageous administration, the ability to deal drastically with finances and the will to prune all superfluous expenditures in connection with civic administration.

WAR DEBT PROBLEM

Most of the saner elements in the United States believe that there should be a revision of war debts. It is the politicians who are opposed to any conference on the subject and to any suspension of the forthcoming payment. The attitude of those politicians is easily understood. In the late presidential campaign both the major candidates came out specifically against any cancellation of war debts. They have now inbibed the idea that the people as a whole have given this verdict at the polls. That is the attitude which is reflected in the decision reached by Messrs. Hoover and Roosevelt. They are under the impression that they are interpreting public opinion.

In the meantime a very substantial opinion in the United States believes that the viewpoint of the administration is a wrong one. Dr. Thomas W. Lamont says that while the war debts may be perfectly just they are impossible. Such newspapers as The New York Times and The New York Evening Post argue that the United States cannot expect Europe to pay the debts when Congress will not allow the countries concerned to ship goods into America, and private investors in the United States will not lend Europe money. Mr. Walter Lippmann is in favor of suspension of the December payment.

One indication of an eddy of American public opinion is voiced by Mr. Louis J. Taber, master of the National Grange. He says that agriculture has a very large stake in the foreign debt settlement and suggests that the debtor nations should be given a credit of from 10 to 20 per cent of debt reduction on all purchases of agricultural products in the United States which can be moved at a price which will allow a marginal profit to the producer. That is probably a method that would afford no relief whatever, but at least it indicates that agricultural interests in the United States are thinking along the lines of some revision of the war debts.

The fact is that there is a substantial body of public opinion in the United States which is in favor of suspension of the December payment and a conference to arrange for a revision of the war debts. There are those high in the counsel of the nation who believe that only a course of this character will prove profitable, and that it is the poorest kind of business to drive one's customers into bankruptcy. In effect they want their country to do what will not only save Europe but go a long way towards restoring world stability and increasing American trade.

The United States at the present time stands to lose far more than the debtor nations if she insists on the war debt payments. It is not only trade she will lose but international prestige, and in the process she will earn a most unfortunate hatred, and possibly be the last nation to recover from the present world depression. These are the factors which, no matter what the immediate decision of Washington may be, will ultimately prevail in the war debt settlement. The United States cannot afford to jeopardise her place in the comity of nations

TOO MUCH LEGISLATION

The Legislature that first sets the example of holding a session and not passing more than half a dozen Bills will be on the high road to illustrating how economies in taxation may be devised. A trouble with all government is a plethora of legislation, and there was never an Act devised yet which did not mean expenditure in the putting of it into effect. Our own Legislature annually passes from eighty to a hundred Bills, the majority of which are designed to amend legislation of the past. That is a sorry commentary on the half-baked thoughts which go to the preparation of legislation, because it is always being subjected to amendment.

It is not only the legislators themselves who are continually canvassing new legislation; it is the people as a whole who want their elected representatives to do this, that and the other things, all with the object of ameliorating the lot either of some particular interest or of the people in the mass. Those who are consistently pressing for new legislation rarely stop to consider that they are pressing for new taxes as well. If there were a moratorium on all legislation the world would be a far better place in which to live. If, as well, perhaps 90 per cent of the existing legislation were wiped off the statute books there would be such a reduction in taxation made possible as would afford immediate relief all round.

BELIEF IN IMMORTALITY

Among savage peoples there is no scepticism about immortality. The belief in it grows with the advance of civilization. This is the finding of Sir James Frazer, the well-known authority on the customs and beliefs of primitive peoples. His research has led him to the conclusion that men all over the world commonly believe that their corporal being will not end with death, but that it will go on and live in another life. The fact is that immortality was believed in by primitive peoples long before the birth of the great religions. Such peoples assigned no particular terrors and no unusual benefits to the "life after death." They foresaw no awful judgment, no dreadful torture, no blissful heaven in which they might dwell in peace for ever. They simply believed in a hereafter, be what it might. Sir James says:

"The immortality of the soul is a problem which has puzzled men for centuries, and it will continue to do so until life on this world comes to an end in some great cosmic chaos—unless, indeed, scientists in the meanwhile discover the secret of the origin of life. When that time comes they may also be able to analyze the soul as well."

These are the days when people are preaching internationalism and at the same time seeking the exclusion from their own countries of all races with whom, because of their method of living, they cannot compete. They want a species of internationalism that is impractical. The inherent belief of human nature, however, is in nationalism. "If we destroy it," says Sir Arthur Keith, "then we wreck nature's scheme for the creation of bigger and better races of mankind."

If over-production is an economic sin of the age then the United States has been the chief malefactor. One phase of over-production in which that country has been prodigal is in optimism. If the people there had kept their feet more on the ground they would have been able in the economic sphere to meet "both triumph and disaster and treat these two impostors just the same."

HOME

God's mercy spread the sheltering roof;
Let faith make firm the floor.
May friend and stranger, all who come,
Find love within the door.
May peace enfold each sleeping-place,
And health surround the board;
From all the lamps that light the halls
Be radiant joy outpoured.
Let kindness keep the hearth aglow,
And through the windows shine;
Be Christlike living, on the walls
The pattern and design.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Sixteen man on the dead man's chest,
Yo-ho! and a bottle of rum!
—From Treasure Island (R. L. S.).

Alexander Pope, feeble and deformed in body, but exceptionally robust of mind, "said a mouthful"—kindly excuse the slang—when he said man never is but always is to be blessed, or something to that effect. One of the peculiar effects of genius is that it is always inclined to say things like that, that it almost looks on the dismal aspect of things instead of on the cheerful aspect of things. Considering the state of the world today, probably it is something to be thankful for that people of genius are comparatively scarce and that people of mental mediocrity are plentiful.

* * *

Take the case of our talented contemporary, P. C. R., who has gained considerable celebrity as a writer of humorous and sometimes brilliant things. Our talented contemporary was at one time as conspicuous a figure on the streets of Victoria as the great Dr. Johnson was on the streets of London. The distinguishing feature of the learned doctor when he walked the streets of London was that he hardly ever passed a post of any kind, from a lamp post to a hitching post, without touching it with his big stick—the weapon, probably with which he administered "what for" to a rascally publisher. The good Doctor, you see, if he was big in body, was rather short in temper.

* * *

The distinguishing characteristic of P. C. R. when he walked the streets of Victoria was that he was short of both wind and temper; but he was never short enough of wind to be incapable of passing judgment upon men and things in terms that were extremely warm and highly vituperative. In fact, the atmosphere in his rear was left charged with something that smelled like brimstone. He has one or two besetting sins, of course, or rather one or two human weaknesses. He was a violent enemy of modern human institutions, but a friend of all humanity, and a special friend of the under-dog wallowing in the gutter of humanity.

* * *

But the most transparent and reprehensible of P. C. R.'s weakness was a consuming thirst for his Rum Ration, acquired probably during the World War. So when we read in the papers that it was the purpose of the Liquor Control Board of the province to reduce substantially the prices of something our American friends describe in one comprehensive term as "liquor," the first thought which entered our mind was that the news would prove glad tidings to our irascible friend in Vancouver; that there would be one man in the world to whom the oft-quoted epigram of the Illustrious Pope would not apply. But the thoughts of men, like the plans of mice, are often wrong. The proclamation of the Liquor Control Board has brought no consolation to the mind or solace to the body of P. C. R. For it seems that the prices of ordinary liquor only are to be reduced and the prices of rum are to remain in the state known as static. We would not have noticed that slip on the part of the board at all but for the lamentations of our inconsolable contemporary, for the cost of strong drink has not interested us at all for several years. We have been total abstainers for that length of time by force of circumstances if not from natural inclination.

* * *

You know what a ration of rum looks like when it is poured upon a plum pudding and ignited. Well, the consuming wrath of P. C. R. was just like that when he learned of the discriminatory ultimatum of the Liquor Control Board. It burst forth in a blue flame, and unless something be done to quench the fire someone is going to have more than his fingers burnt. We expect the Prohibition League of British Columbia will have something to say about this matter also, but we fear the league has not the capacity to deal with the subject in such terms as it has been dealt with by our outraged contemporary. Strong drink when it is raging is a feeble manifestation compared with the roars of denunciation of the newspaper commentator. We lament the disappointment of P. C. R. and anticipate without apprehension the denunciations of the Demon Rum by the agents of prohibition, but we are sincerely sorry for the Attorney-General of the province, for upon his unoffending, but we trust not entirely defenceless, head will be heaped responsibility for both sins of omission and commission.

* * *

Our contemporary is a natural-born revolutionary, provided a revolution could be precipitated without hurting anybody seriously. He is not only a revolutionary politically but a revolutionary professionally. In former times, and possibly in later times for aught we know, men of the journalistic profession were well content, even delighted, with an occasional "spot" of something not nearly so potent, but probably just as good for their purpose, as a Ration of Rum. If P. C. R. has been bellowing his thunder in the interests of all the journalists of Vancouver, we anticipate the future with fears and tremblings. "Two pen'orth of rum" will not go far if all the newspapermen of the province become even as P. C. R.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock at any tide, add 15.8 feet to the height of high water as above given

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Songhees drydock add 20 feet to the height of high water as above given.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

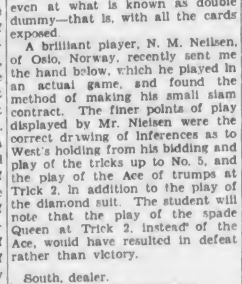

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

MASTERS OF BRIDGE

Occasionally a hand turns up at the bridge table that even the greatest expert finds impossible of solution in actual play, and difficult even at what is known as double dummy—that is, with all the cards exposed.

A brilliant player, N. M. Neilsen, of Oslo, Norway, recently sent me the hand below, which he played in an actual game, and found the method of making his small slam contract. The finer points of play displayed by Mr. Nielsen were the correct drawing of inferences as to West's holding from his bidding and play of the tricks up to No. 5, and the play of the Ace of trumps at Trick 2, in addition to the play of the diamond suit. The student will note that the play of the spade Queen at Trick 2, instead of the Ace, would have resulted in defeat rather than victory.

South, dealer.
North and South vulnerable.

The Bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♠	2◇	2NT	Pass
3♣	Pass	3♠	Pass
4♣	Pass	4♠	Pass
6♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

The slam contract should, no doubt, be reached as North and South have not only many honor-tricks, but reasonably favorable distribution

West's choice of an opening lead was not easy, but he correctly chose the lesser of evils with the lead of a trump. A small trump was played from the dummy, East played the 6, and South won with the Knave. In order to test out the trump distribution at once, the Ace of trumps was laid down at Trick 2, and West already was forced to find a discard. He chose the diamond 2. Mr. Nielsen then led the diamond 6, and West quite correctly refused to play the Ace. The trick was won with dummy's queen, and the diamond King returned. Mr. Nielsen did not ruff, however, but instead discarded the club 5. West won with the Ace, but was again in difficulties as to the choice of a card to lead. Weighing everything, he determined to return the diamond Knave. West's play at this point gave Mr. Nielsen the key to the future play of the hand.

Obviously, he would not lead a diamond, and thereby establish a good diamond in dummy, if he could lead either a heart or club. Therefore, he must hold the heart King and the club Queen. Now South laid down the heart Ace, and followed with the spade Queen, on which West discarded the diamond 5. This trick was won with the king in dummy. This was another beautiful play. The diamond 10 was now led, and the declarer discarded his losing heart. West, however, was ground between the upper and the nether millstone. If he discarded a club, South's play was easy, as he would lead two rounds of clubs, ruff the third and establish the fourth for the slam trick. If he discarded a heart, then one of dummy's hearts would be led, ruffed in the closed hand, and the success of the contract assured.

A very spectacular and interesting hand, indeed, and if it is a sample of bridge as played in Norway, Mr. Nielsen and his countrymen are to be congratulated.

CHURCH UNITY

Sir,—The Rev. Dr. Unsworth in Sunday's paper expresses great satisfaction that, in the endeavor to unite churches and sects of many different doctrines, already it is shown that their respective liturgies are, to a great degree, in exact agreement.

There is only one way of really bringing about this unity and that is to discover which is the pristine church. For this, it is only necessary to turn on the searchlight of the plain facts of history, backed up by whatever has ever been written and tradition. When this is done then, automatically, all the other churches must be schismatic, meaning that they deliberately wished to break away from this main church.

There was, and always has been, unity in this mother church, but all the others broke away, one by one, first from her, then from each other, just according to when they wished to reject and alter certain doctrines and sometimes to substitute their own. It could be reduced to a mathematical formula to make it clear, or, better still, it could be stated by a genealogical tree formula.

So it follows that to bring about unity they must proceed to express their allegiance to the mother church instead of avowing their independence as they have done all down the ages to the great confusion of would-be Christians who have sought the one Christian religion and have seen one hundred and fifty in one city! This, in most cases makes them turn their backs on all.

The thing that divides the churches is that they have broken away and wilfully called themselves by a new name. While this is the case, the fact that, to be Christian at all, they had to use the prayers taken from the Christian church does not help the unity. If people would use their reasoning powers that they apply to their business the situation would be plain—it is only prejudice which hinders.

If things go on as they are, the Anglican Church will be torn right in two. Dean Quainton made this same statement in his lecture at Foul Bay the other night.

"OUR TREASURE ISLAND"

Sir,—It seems to me that the Provincial Government should take some action to make use of the great natural wealth of Vancouver Island that F. M. Kelly described so interestingly in your Sunday issue.

Nearly the whole of the country described is owned by the people of this province. It is not railroad land, and when we consider the value of the natural wealth, such as timber, coal, etc., taken from railroad lands in the last forty years, it is not unreasonable to expect that our Provincial Government can, with good management, pay off the whole provincial debt with the above natural wealth which the above writer tells about under the heading "Our Treasure Island."

MUNICIPAL ELECTION

Sir,—In considering Mr. Andros as a candidate for mayor, it might be just as well to know something of his past record as a member of the City Council.

He was a member of the finance committee of the City Council for the five years, 1917-1921, during which time the city's financial affairs were drifting from bad to worse, notwithstanding Mr. Andros' ability as an ex-banker and as a financier. In spite of that situation the city embarked in 1920-21 on the construction of the Johnson Street Bridge, which, as everyone knows, for sheer extravagance is one of the worst examples the city has to show. The Provincial Government contributed $200,000, the C.P.R. $100,000, and the estimated balance for the city, as voted by by-law, was $420,000. Then another by-law for $110,000 was passed and finally a further by-law for $90,000 had to be approved by the taxpayers, in addition to which the roadway from the west end of the bridge accounted for another $85,000. Mr. Andros, as a member of the City Council and finance committee, which led the city into this ridiculous and uneconomic expenditure, is now offering himself for mayor on a platform of economy!

If Mr. Andros has the ability he claims to have, why did he not during the eight years, 1917-1924, that he was on the council, provide some of the much-needed financial leadership that was sadly required there immediately after the war?

It was not until 1922, when Mr. Leeming, our present mayor, became an alderman, that any financial leadership was shown and a policy developed that would lead the city out of the woods, and to Mr. Leeming undoubtedly belongs most of the credit.

Mr. Leeming, as mayor during this most difficult year, 1932, has again proved his splendid ability in guiding the city's finances in the best possible way, for which I am sure the ratepayers and citizens generally must be thankful and proud. The citizens can make no mistake in demonstrating this at the polls on December 8 by electing Mayor Leeming for another term.

THE PUBLICITY BUREAU

Sir,—I was very much impressed with the letter of Mr. Scurrah in today's Colonist regarding Mr. Andros' suggestion to save the city $22,500 by canceling the annual grant to the Publicity Bureau. Like Mr. Scurrah, I also was one of the merchants who endorsed the idea of the Publicity Bureau some ten years ago and felt that the services of this bureau would be of such value to the city that I was quite willing to have our share of the trade licences of the merchants raised about 300 per cent to provide the necessary funds.

The tourist business is by far the city's greatest possible source of income and should be developed at all cost. It is a recognized fact today in business that a certain percentage of income must be reinvested in advertising. It is just as impossible for the tourist business of this city to grow without proper publicity as it would be to expect a store to thrive without newspaper advertising.

The city of Victoria is included in an organization composed of the following cities: Vancouver, Bellingham, Seattle, Tacoma and Longview. This group was formed for the purpose of co-operating with each other in the advertising and development of the tourist business and Victoria has been a member since its inception. On account of the fact that we are off the main traveled highway we have had to depend upon the good will of the neighboring cities to send us a great deal of tourist traffic. Should we withdraw we would lose the good will and the co-operation of all the Sound cities who have done so much during the past years to send us tourists.

If the merchants of Victoria feel that the grant for the Publicity Bureau is good business and are still willing to put up the money I think Mr. Andros is very ill-advised to interfere.

VICTORIA'S BOND ISSUE

Sir,—The undersigned bond dealers of the city of Victoria consider it their civic duty to correct statements made by Mr. E. B. Andros, mayoralty candidate, which statements appeared in The Times of November 25, 1932, reading as follows:

"Did the mayor answer my question why he sold bonds to the citizens at par and at the same time sold a block of $300,000 at a discount? No, he did not no!! Not a word! He merely said 'The banks pressed us.' Of course they pressed him. It was just business with them. Those bankers knew that they were going to lend that money to the brokers, who were going to make $24,000 out of the deal. I'll tell you a banking secret. All the brokers did was to take those bonds, hand them to the bankers and pocket the $24,000 profit."

The true facts of this transaction are as follows:

The bond dealers who purchased the above issue of bonds from the city made a gross profit of less than $4,000 on the total transaction, which is substantially less than the $24,000 mentioned by Mr. Andros. The sum of $225,000 of the above issue was sold to institutions at a profit of less than 1 per cent, the remaining $75,000 was sold to the public at $95.25.

The bonds were offered by the City of Victoria through public tender and bids were placed by bond houses domiciled all across the Dominion. Unfortunately, the bids of the Victoria bond houses were not high enough for them to be awarded the bonds. We considered, however, the competition was fair and the transaction was conducted according to common practice in all municipal issues.

The above statements are issued solely for the purpose of correcting a statement not based on fact.

OLD AGE AND WORK

Sir,—I notice in your paper of today's date, in "Believe It or Not," that a Miss Adams has taught school in the U.S.A. for sixty-nine years.

A very creditable performance. I have no doubt, but why are people allowed to "hold down their jobs" for so many years, when there are young people waiting and anxious to fill them?

This Miss Adams could hardly have begun teaching before she was sixteen years old, which would make her now eighty-five.

Imagine it! A teacher who gets quite a decent salary being allowed to reap in wages long after she ought to have been able to retire on her savings. In cases where saving is not possible on account of dependents, surely, after, say thirty-five years' service, a teacher should be entitled to a pension.

There are too many "ancients" holding down jobs who ought to be pensioned off and so leave room for the younger generation.

Would there be need for so much relief for our young men and women if those of fifty-five years and over, who are at present working through necessity, were pensioned off by the Government?

It seems to me that the older people are the ones to step aside, and receive help if necessary and give the younger men and women a chance to work and earn their own living, instead of becoming merely parasites.

Another way of making openings for our girls and boys would be to make it illegal to employ a married woman whose husband is working, and quite able to keep her, even though it be only in modest circumstances.

If a woman is not satisfied to share a modest home with her husband, and look after it and his children to the best of her ability, then she is not worth marrying at all.

I have two boys, twenty-two and twenty years of age, and there seems to be little or no chance for them to get anything steady to do. What is there going to be for all the boys and girls (including my own two girls) when they leave school?

OWNER INDEMNIFIED FOR PROPERTY LOSS

Mrs. Lester J. Jackson, of Vancouver, Wash., will receive a cheque for $275 from the Provincial Government, with apologies for damage done by a fire which spread from road-clearing operations on the Canadian side of the border near the Peace Arch Highway last Fall. By order-in-council yesterday, the Government set this amount aside as a full settlement of the claim. An unoccupied building and other property was damaged by the fire, which got out of hand.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of November 30, 1882)

His Excellency the Governor-General will inspect the Victoria Garrison Artillery next Saturday morning at Finlayson Point battery, after which there will be a shot and shell competition. It is expected that every member of the regiment will attend the parade.

G. A. C. Bencke and family, so long and so favorably known in connection with the Esquimalt naval yard, will leave this morning for the Old Country. Their numerous friends and acquaintances, though regretting their departure, wish them bon voyage.

Dunsmuir, Diggle & Co., proprietors of the Wellington Collieries, invite tenders for the construction of nearly a mile of railway. The proposed railway will run from No. 3 shaft to a spot near Thomas Wall's hotel.

In consequence of this being Thanksgiving Day south of the line, the Western Union Telegraph hours will be from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. and from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m.

PROBLEMS OF 1933 WILL BE MUCH HEAVIER

Ald. P. R. Brown, Chairman of Finance Committee, Outlines Position

REFUNDING ISSUE PROGNOSTICATED

"As far as I can see, and speaking as chairman of the finance committee, I am of the honest opinion that it will be necessary to refund serial debentures falling due in 1933, as we have done in each of the last two years. The city undertook to pay off its debt too quickly, and this places too big a strain on the taxpayer."

Thus spoke Alderman P. R. Brown at last night's meeting in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, called for the purpose of affording members of the council an opportunity of giving an account of their stewardship.

Alderman Brown made the above prognostication in order to give the public a glimpse into next year's problems and to illustrate just how serious a financial situation confronted the city as a result of the heavy burden of unemployed relief.

SHIFT BURDEN

"By refunding now, a portion of the burden is lifted from the shoulders of the present taxpayers, and handed on to the taxpayer of the future, who will be much better able to bear it, as our annual debt charges during the next few years will decrease very steadily."

In his opening remarks, the alderman said that "during the last few days, unfair, ruthless criticism has been leveled at this year's council, and a great deal of the supposed information has been so wrapped up, or putting it more bluntly, so beautifully decorated and camouflaged by men who know better, that it is my thought that every alderman should be given an opportunity to give an account of his activities and those of his committee so that you may have first hand information on which to base your judgment."

Referring to the many candidates who have promised a reduction in taxation, if elected, Alderman Brown said that he alone paid $10,000 to the city in taxes, and all members of the council were taxpayers. Did the public think the council raised taxes wilfully or just for fun? the alderman asked. Such statements as were being made from the election platform were utterly ridiculous, he declared.

REFUTES CHARGES

Alderman Brown refuted the charges made that the council had failed to carry out its promise of not increasing taxes when the $500,000 loan was authorized. He said that no such undertaking was given. The loan had been floated to keep taxes down, that was why the people this year had had a rate of only 41.5 mills instead of 60 mills. Obligations amounting to $449,000 were handed to the 1932 council by the 1931 council, and it was these obligations that made the loan necessary, not lack of economy on the part of this year's council.

The present mill rate may be summed up in one word, "Unemployment," Alderman Brown asserted, and he added that the burden of unemployment relief next year would, in all probability, be greater than this year.

ASSESSMENT CUT

The alderman alluded to the revision in assessments carried out this year, and stated the reduction amounted to $1,750,000 approximately, and that this represented about $53,000 in taxes, which would have to be made up in the general levy. He then referred to the enormous amount of tax exemptions which the city was carrying as another of the problems that continually confronted the council.

Touching upon the marketing of $200,000 worth of bonds over the counter, Alderman Brown said that those who commended the move were now criticizing in spite of the fact that the value of city bonds had risen. At the time of this over-the-counter sale, the bank was pressing the city to place itself in a liquid position, and the council had no other alternative than to invite bids for a $300,000 block of the $500,000 issue that remained unsold. The bank agreed to carry the city for the remaining $200,000, and as a result the city's financial position was made stronger, and the value of the remaining debentures rose until now they were worth far more than par.

HAVE KEPT FAITH

"I claim that neither the mayor nor the members of the council have broken faith with the ratepayers, but that we have given of our best at a time when the best was needed."

Alderman Brown, to remove any false hopes that might exist, declared that "it would be absolutely impossible to remove the 10 per cent increase in the improvement tax next year. If the tide of reversions of vacant land is to be stemmed, some relief has to be given the owners of vacant land, otherwise the full burden of the consequent reversions will fall on the owner of improved property, he stated.

Next year would be one of purely maintenance. No capital expenditures would be possible, the alderman said.

BUDGET CONTROL

Reverting to this year's tax rate question, the alderman gave statistics to show how the rate was made up. This rate is as follows: General purposes, 16.3949 mills; debt, 14.6912 mills, and schools, 10.4139 mills; total, 41.5 mills. The grand total of expenditures was $3,162,355. Of this amount, $1,638,544 was represented by uncontrollable expenditures. This left $1,523,800 of controllable expenses. Of this amount almost three-quarters of a mill was completely beyond the control of the council. Library, hospitals, charities, unemployment relief included in this figure amounted to $743,788, so that really all that is really controllable is $780,000.

"I am fully aware of the demand for reduced taxation, and from a personal point of view I am as much interested in this point as any person. Let me impress this fact: In our 1932 budget our expenditure on relief is more than 8 mills. In the coming year we are faced with even heavier commitments, owing to the reduced Government grants. As chairman of the finance committee it would be folly on my part to suggest that taxes will be reduced. If we can keep the mill rate at its present figure, it will be something for the 1933 council to be proud of," the alderman said, in conclusion.

Elks Will Honor Departed Members

The annual memorial services for departed members of Victoria Lodge No. 2, B.P.O.E., will be held in the lodgerooms next Sunday afternoon, when members and their friends are invited to attend.

The services will commence at 3 o'clock with ritualistic ceremonies performed by officers of the lodge. The address will be delivered by Rev. Arthur deB. Owen.

A musical programme consisting of symphony orchestra selections and vocal solos will be offered by Alfred Prescott and his group of musicians, Mrs. T. R. Bowden, Fred Wright and Thomas Kelway.

FOOD PRICES AT NEW LOW LEVEL

Eggs Take Another Three-Cent Drop and Reach Epoch-Making Yuletide Mark

Victoria housewives will have plenty of cause to rejoice this Christmas, for foodstuffs of every kind are retailing at a far lower figure than ever before in the history of the city.

Eggs dropped three cents in price yesterday and fresh extras are now retailing at forty cents per dozen, three cents below Saturday's price, and six cents below the figure quoted last Wednesday. It is expected that this new low level will remain fixed for some time, and as this is the lowest figure at which eggs have sold during the corresponding season for many years, any change that takes place will increase rather than decrease the present cost.

Meat prices are lower than at any time in the past thirty-five years, and at the present time choice shoulder roasts of pork are listed at anywhere from ten to twelve and one-half cents per pound.

CHRISTMAS TURKEYS

Although the actual date of the first arrival of Christmas turkeys is not yet known, it is expected that prices will remain the same as those at Thanksgiving, which means that birds will retail 25 per cent cheaper than they did during the Yuletide season last year.

Japanese oranges and Spanish raisins are already on the market as well as figs and nuts. Despite the present rate of exchange, these Christmas specials are retailing much lower than usual.

Hothouse tomatoes are cheaper than ever before in history for the time of year, and a large shipment of California egg plants, which is expected to arrive here on Saturday, will most likely set a new low mark for this product.

SPORTING ATTRACTIONS

Sir,—There have been many helpful suggestions in the columns of The Colonist from your correspondents to discover some practical way out of our jungle of unemployment and waste of "youth" who have reached that state of mind and despair that they feel they are "unwanted," "useless" In this present-day scheme of life. Could I suggest, sir, that there are several improvements and ideas that could be brought to a successful conclusion right here in Victoria and district and financially possible? This is probably the only city or town in Canada without an arena for ice hockey and skating, and there are enough athletic associations and sporting clubs to make the erection of one possible if sufficient season ticket holders were guaranteed. Quite a number of the building tradesmen would benefit in the labor and material required. Our bathing beaches should be improved and "modern" dressing stations constructed more in line with the splendid facilities offered at Kitsilano and English Bay beaches at Vancouver, with concrete enclosed warm water swimming pools. We also should have a tropical glass-covered Winter garden, with a small charge for admission, and our seafront should be made more attractive to draw visitors to Victoria.

Dinner Dance to Be Held Tomorrow

—Photograph by Associated Screen News.

EMPRESS Hotel Dance Orchestra.—The management of the Empress Hotel announce the arrangement of a special dinner dance to be held tomorrow night, marking the close of "Living Music Day and Buyers' Shopping Festival." This feature will be held in the main dining-room from 6:45 to 8:15 o'clock, the Empress Hotel augmented dance orchestra supplying the music, under the direction of W. Tickle. The entertainment given in celebration of "Living Music Day" is extremely appropriate, for the movement has no more ardent supporter than the management of the Empress Hotel. Living music is maintained continuously in the hotel throughout the year, programmes of orchestral and dance music being given daily.

MISSING GIRL IS RECOVERED

Leona Faulkner Is Found by Police in Nanaimo With Her Father

Disappearance of Leona Faulkner, aged eight, from the McKenzie Avenue School at noon on Monday, was solved by police yesterday when she was found in Nanaimo in company with her father, F. Faulkner, of Kelowna.

When the child failed to return home for lunch on Monday, her mother became anxious and notified police. An inquiry was made and it was discovered the child had been picked up at the school grounds by a man in a taxicab.

Mrs. Faulkner said she did not know her husband had come to Victoria. Mr. Faulkner had been living in Kelowna. Police did not detain Mr. Faulkner once his identity was established.

WAS BURIED TUESDAY

On Tuesday morning at St. Andrew's Cathedral, mass for the repose of the soul was celebrated by Rev. Father J. Basil Colloton for Johanna White, whose death occurred at Duncan. The remains were laid to rest at Ross Bay Cemetery, the following old-time friends acting as pallbearers: D. Kerwin, A. Cave, L. A. Marston and F. Lavery.

Completing Arrangements For City's Musical Event

Last-Minute Details for Living Music Day in Victoria Tomorrow Being Arranged—Success of Venture Is Assured

There are busy offices everywhere in the city today, but perhaps the greatest activity is focused on that of Friiz V. Homan, secretary of the local musician's union, where last arrangements are being made for the "Living Music Day and Buyer's Shopping Festival," which will take place tomorrow. Bands, orchestras and trios are being apportioned to the different stores and business houses, from which they will render varied programmes of music during the day.

Mr. Homan expressed great satisfaction in the way in which these arrangements are progressing. The spirit of co-operation that predominates between the leading merchants and the musicians who will give these concerts in the stores forecosts a striking success for the big gala day.

"Every indication points to the achievement of our aim," stated Mr. Homan yesterday. "'Living Music Day and Buyer's Shopping Festival' has been promoted with a dual purpose, that of educating the public in the advantages of first class music, and simultaneously giving them the opportunity of comparing and selecting from a panorama of special bargains, grouped for this day by merchants throughout the city.

"'Living Music Day' will have the effect of turning a brilliant spotlight on the musical resources of the city. The art of music has made vast forward strides in Western Canada in recent years, and to this movement Victoria has handsomely subscribed. Our city has an abundance of real musical talent here; what is needed is a more liberal recognition of the fact by the general public," Mr. Homan stated.

The entertainment offered the public is far from ended with the close of the stores. A mammoth free concert has been arranged, to be held at the Royal Victoria Theatre at 8:30 p.m., when the Victoria Philharmonic Orchestra will be a dominant feature, the full complement of sixty pieces being under the direction of Alfred Prescott. The brass band of the 1st. Battalion (16th C.E.F.) Canadian Scottish Regiment, will also give a well selected programme, Bandmaster J. M. Miller conducting.

FUNERAL TODAY

The funeral service will be conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon for Mrs. Margaret Rachel Denton. Interment will be made at Royal Oak Burial Park.

CITY PASTORS HOLD RETREAT

Nearly Fifty Ministers Enjoy Period of Prayer in Solitude

Nearly fifty ministers, representing all denominations of Greater Victoria, took part in a retreat yesterday morning and afternoon at St. Michael's United Church, Royal Oak. The retreat is an innovation to the local ministry. It was suggested by Rev. G. A. Reynolds, president of the Victoria Ministerial Association, for the purpose of offering pastors a period away from their work to which they may indulge in prayer and discussions.

The morning session was presided over by Very Rev. C. S. Quainton, Dean of Columbia, who impressed his audience with an inspiring address on the Oxford Group Movement. The Dean reviewed the founding of the movement and its rapid spread in England. Its ideals and purpose were outlined and the audience was deeply stirred by the observations the Dean made while on his recent journey to the Old Country.

BISHOP ATTENDS LUNCH

Luncheon was served at noon and was graced with the presence of Rt. Rev. C. D. Schofield, Bishop of Columbia, who presided.

In the afternoon, Rev. F. H. Wilkinson, rector of Christ Church Cathedral in Vancouver, was chairman and gave three addresses to lead in periods of responsive prayer, litany and silent prayer. The session closed in the early afternoon.

With the success that attended the initial gathering, it was intimated that another retreat would be held next year. The feature of the gatherings is the solitude in which those taking part may offer prayers and carry on discussions without interruption.

BOND CAMPAIGN IS PROGRESSING

Efforts Being Made to Establish More Distributing Points Over the City

Efforts to have a multitude of distributing centres for Human Interest Bonds throughout the city are now being carried out by Col. T. B. Monk, campaign manager. The purpose of this is to keep the campaign ever before the people in order that they will co-operate to the fullest extent in the worthy cause of the whole move.

There are now approximately 5,000 bonds on sale in the city, which may be obtained from various centres and service club members. Those who have these bonds are urged to do their utmost in promoting their sales as the committee in charge is desirous of having bonds sold to all who can possibly afford.

GIVE FULL DETAILS

For the many citizens who are unaware of the purpose of these bonds and in just what manner they may be used, circulars may be obtained from Col. Monk's office in the Arcade Building, giving full details as to how they may be used to assist Victoria's needy.

The bonds may be obtained from members of the Gyro, Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, the Salvation Army, Chamber of Commerce members, City Treasurer's office, B.C. Electric, Spencer's and Hudson's Bay postoffice departments, and principals and teachers of city schools. Anyone wishing to undertake the selling of the bonds is asked to communicate with those in charge. Arrangements are now being made to have members of women's organizations work in the selling campaign.

Keep Intestines Active and Clean, Doctors Say . . . . . If You Want to Enjoy a Good Digestion

HERE'S WHERE poor digestion usually starts! When intestines are clogged, elimination is delayed—indigestion follows—headaches, dizziness.

DR. ROBERT LATZEL, the noted Vienna authority, says: "Fresh yeast keeps the body functioning properly—improves appetite and digestion."

"I HAD INDIGESTION, constipation, and couldn't get strong," writes Miss Blanche Irene Hill of London, Ont. "Thanks to Fleischmann's Yeast cakes my sick days are past; no pains . . . eat and sleep normally. Yeast cakes gave me pep."

RELIEF! Three cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast daily correct constipation. Headaches vanish. The skin soon clears up.

"It's very easy to correct 'ACID STOMACH'"!

"Scientific discoveries show fresh yeast improves digestion, increases appetite, builds up health," explains famous Vienna Physician

YOU know the symptoms. Sourness. Indigestion. Gas. That dull, bloated feeling after meals.

These troubles are very common. Yet—in the vast majority of cases—they are absolutely unnecessary, eminent physicians say!

For example—

"I have found that 'acid stomach,' heartburn, coated tongue, etc., are usually due to a stagnant condition of the intestines.

"It is really very easy to correct this trouble . . . The best way to do this is to eat fresh yeast."

In these words the celebrated stomach specialist, Dr. Robert Latzel, sums up the results of a lifetime of medical experience. Dr. Latzel is physician-in-chief of the clinic for internal diseases in Vienna's largest free hospital. He adds:—

"Fresh yeast restores normal bowel action . . . improves digestion by increasing the flow of digestive juices, giving a healthy appetite and greater vitality."

Made a part of your regular diet, Fleischmann's Yeast stimulates and invigorates your whole digestive and intestinal tract. Accumulated food wastes are moistened and softened. Your body functions regularly again, eliminating poison-breeding residues in a normal way.

And as your system is gently cleansed and "toned," digestive secretions revive. Discomfort no longer follows eating. You really enjoy your meals once more!

So get rid of indigestion. Get back appetite, energy—a happy outlook on life. Every day, regularly, eat three cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast—just plain, or dissolved in a third of a glass of water—before meals, or between meals and when you go to bed.

* * *

And remember, Fleischmann's Yeast is the richest known food source of the group of three indispensable health-giving vitamins—vitamins B and G, and the remarkable "sunshine" vitamin D. These elements are often lacking in our ordinary diet.

Ask for Fleischmann's Yeast at grocers, restaurants, drug stores and soda fountains. Try it today!

*IMPORTANT—Fleischmann's Yeast for health comes only in the foil-wrapped cake with the yellow label. It is yeast in its fresh, effective form—the kind doctors advise.

Jack Dempsey Compares Canzoneri and Petrolle

Fargo Boy Worn Down as Result of His Disdain for Punches, While Tony Learned Early to Avoid Being Hurt and Conserved Strength

Tony Canzoneri was born in 1905 in New Orleans. Billy Petrolle was born in 1905 at Fargo, N.D. Today Tony Canzoneri is lightweight champion of the world. Petrolle, after coming back from one retirement, is on the verge of his permanent retirement, for Billy has lost a little of his punch, and he has lost the snap in those marvelous legs of his. Both are twenty-seven years old. Why is it that one is right at the crest, improving every time he fights, while the other, the same age, is almost ready to drop into the oblivion which must finally swallow all boxers.

JACK DEMPSEY

That is not a difficult question to answer, and the answer holds no moral, for both are clean-living lads who always took care of themselves. The difference between them has always been that Tony took care of himself inside the ring as well as outside, while Billy, a slambang fighter if ever there was one, disdained puches. He took hundreds of them, and finally they began to wear him down.

I saw Canzoneri and Petrolle fight a few weeks ago for the lightweight title. Tony, of course, won in fifteen rounds, and at the finish Tony looked fresh, confident, eager—as a youngster of twenty-seven should look, while Billy looked tired, haggard old—far older than his twenty-seven years.

In the past there has been a disposition to question Tony's ability—the thing no one will ever question again. Tony once said to me, "If I don't knock a man out they say I am slipping, and if I do they say he was a set-up."

NATURAL ASSETS

Tony was a sensation back in 1928 when he held the featherweight title. He was only twenty-three and comparatively inexperienced. He had all of the natural assets which combine to make a great fighter, but they hadn't yet been brought out. He really became champion before his time; before he had reached championship proportions. He won the championship from Benny Bass, then lost it to Andre Routis on a close decision. It was inexperience that lost that crown for Tony.

Many a fighter would have become discouraged at such a reverse. To add to his troubles, Tony began to get heavier. He found it difficult to make the featherweight limit, and soon he was fighting in the lightweight class.

Within a year he had beaten such men as Stanley Loayza, Phil McGraw and Ignacio Fernandez, and then he took on the champion, Al Singer. Until now Tony had been known chiefly as a clever boxer who couldn't punch. Meanwhile Petrolle was winging along nicely, piling up a big knockout record, but taking plenty of punches himself.

Tony knocked Singer out in one punch. He was champion now, and with the title there came a confidence in his ability that he had lacked before. It was really experience that he had added to his boxing equipment. He started knocking out opponents, and gradually he was accepted as a first rate champion.

Now Tony has a rosy future. The fans flock to see him. He is strong and a good puncher, and he still retains the boxing skill of his early days. He built a good foundation during those years, and he did it by avoiding punches and learning to keep from being hurt.

JOINT RECITAL IS APPROVED

Schubert Club and Philharmonic Orchestra Heard at Shrine Hall

Two now well-known and well-liked musical organizations combined forces with admirable results last night in the joint recital given by the Schubert (Ladies') Club and the Victoria Philharmonic Orchestra at the Shrine Auditorium. The generosity of the applause testified to the infinite pleasure given by the musicians, choir and orchestra individually and in combination being several times called upon to repeat numbers which gave especial delight.

The best that has been said about each ensemble was amply justified. But a new precedent was established after orchestra and choir in combination had given their outstandingly fine performances of the interesting, difficult and new David Stanley Smith's "Wind Swept Wheat," a real test piece in every respect, yet showing extremely fine care in preparation and commendable unison, and the choral-orchestral arrangement of the familiar aria for contralto from Saint-Saens' "Samson and Delilah," "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice."

MORE DIFFICULT

Of the two, the former was technically far the more difficult, largely owing to the nature of the composition, but voices and instruments combined with apparent real enthusiasm to make something both interesting and beautiful. Too much praise cannot be given to Miss Florence Noel, who, as soprano soloist in this work, revealed not only a lovely voice of beautiful and confident tone, but an easy familiarity with the work.

The Saint-Saens' number offered an opportunity for the development of beautiful tonal color, and Frederic King, who conducted on each occasion, made good use of the occasion, abetted by Alfred Prescott, the orchestral leader, in the role of concert master and first violinist.

ORCHESTRA FIRST

The orchestra opened the programme, under Mr. Prescott's baton, with the "Triumphal March" from Grieg's "Sigurd Jorsolfar," and later in the evening played also the richly beautiful Rossi "Merchant of Venice" suite, with its ringingly impressive "Doge's March" as a climax; the instrumental overture of Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro," and the movingly beautiful "Keltic Lament" (Foulds), which brought an enthusiastic demonstration for the three 'cellists particularly.

The Schubert group, sung by the choir as its first offering, was uniformly beautiful, an especial favorite being the encored "Whither?" The next group, Buck's "On the Sea," superbly accompanied by Miss Grace Allen, showed the choir at its zenith, although the other numbers, "Sweet and Low" and Wood's "Music When Soft Voices Die," the former unaccompanied, also had fine treatment.

Reports were heard from all committees and Mrs. A. Hatcher gave the report on the recent silver tea held at her home, for which she and also Mrs. H. Allan were given a hearty vote of thanks. DAINTY

For Home

By MME. LISBETH

THE smart simple little frock shown here and worn by Marian Nixon, screen player, is ideal for the young bride when she entertains during the daytime, or for Southern wear.

It is made of pale blue silk with threadlike cross-bars of darker shade.

The collar and shoulder ruffles are of white batiste with tucks, and the buttons are of carved crystal.

Housewifery Fashionable In England

LONDON (NANA).—Housewifery has become fashionable again, and for the first time in the history of modern Mayfair hostesses are meeting in famous drawing-rooms for lectures on the art of washing up, the dignity of housework, their relations with their servants, and the planning of kitchens and cupboards.

So keen is the interest in this subject that it has become the means of raising funds, and a series of lectures is being given in Lady Listowel's drawing-room in Bryanston Square by Mrs. Spielman Raphael.

"The hausfrau type of woman is not despised today as she was a few years ago," Mrs. Raphael says. "Competence is admired as much in the home as in the factory."

To iron over frocks with large buttons without breaking them, use several thicknesses of Turkish towels, or a blanket, to iron them on. Turn the garment buttonside down and press on the wrong side. The buttons will sink into the soft padding, leaving a smooth surface for the iron.

Adding a tablespoonful of vinegar to a warm bath will help fatigued muscles.

MOCK TRIAL IS GREAT SUCCESS

"Jones Versus Jinks," Staged by Young People's Society, Provides High Comedy

The stern arm of the law was prevented from grasping its victim, and justice and matrimony pursued their courses amid riotous laughter, when the members of the Emmanuel Baptist Young People's Society staged the hilarious mock trial, "Jones Versus Jinks," last night.

Twenty-one members of the society were included in the cast and the plot was derived from the actions of a shy and bashful Mr. Jenks, played by James Oakman, who amorously courted the young lady of his heart, Miss Julianna Jones, played by Miss E. Zala. The smitten swain's actions were entirely misunderstood by his light of love, who sued him for damages to both personal pride and property. After many witnesses had been heard, the attorney for the defence, played by Miss Maud Oakman, informed the plaintiff that her embarrassment was caused only by Mr. Jenks' shy and earnest love and the case ended amid gales of laughter.

FILL ROLES WELL

All members of the cast carried their roles well, but special praise is due Judge Heminshaw, played by Jack Parfitt; Augustus Smart, attorney for the plaintiff, played by Frederick Parfitt; Viola Veryplain, attorney for the defence, played by Miss Maud Oakman, and Mike, the court clerk, portrayed by Archie Murphy, as well as the two principals. At the conclusion of the trial, Mrs. Cogswell, who directed the performance, was presented with a large bouquet of flowers as a token of appreciation.

The following artists contributed to the entertainment: Donald Smith, Ross Main, Miss A. Patterson, E. Boulden, A. Webster, J. Daniels, W. Miles, Ormand Marrion, Arthur Parfitt, E. Oakman, Victor Zala, Miss Rosiemai Parfitt, Miss Ethel Rhodes, Miss Rosena Murphy, Miss Ora Jealouse, Byron Price, Mrs. F. Ellers, Miss Phyllis Knapp, and Messrs. Dinsmore and Honeychurch. George Waites acted as master of ceremonies.

Knox Y.P.S. Will Visit Orphanage

The Knox Presbyterian Young People's Society held its usual weekly meeting in the church, Monday evening. The president, Robert Foulis, opened the meeting with the pledge and motto, and the devotional period was taken by Miss Margaret Roe. It was decided that the society would give a social evening at the Orphanage. Plans are also being made for the usual Christmas hampers.

Robert Foulis gave an interesting talk on "The Aims and Objects of a Young People's Society." He also mentioned how interesting and educational the Religious Educational Council School had been, which he attended at the beginning of November. The spirit of good fellowship and enthusiasm was very noticeable among the 200 young leaders and teachers who attended this school.

Next Monday the C.G.I.T. Group will present a play, "Missionary Arithmetic," at the Y.P.S. meeting. This play is being repeated by special request.

Capt. H. G. Scott Addresses Club

NANAIMO, Nov. 29.—Captain H. G. Scott, former British intelligence officer, gave an interesting address, outlining a series of vivid portraits of leading figures in Europe before the Women's Canadian Club meeting held yesterday afternoon. His graphic description of the personalities of his subjects was further illuminated by the recollection of incidents coming within his purview during his service in the countries concerned, the narrative constituting a fascinating review of European history in the last few decades. Mrs. W. E. J. Ekins presided.

The secretary informed the meeting that Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, of Victoria, and Mrs. Millicent MacKinnon, of Toronto, would shortly address the club on "Mussolini," and "India, Past and Present," respectively.

The president also announced that Miss Kydd had postponed her visit to Nanaimo until next May. Several new members were welcomed by the president.

Tunic Dress Stylish

By MME. LISBETH

A clever version of the popular tunic dress for Autumn is pictured here. A lace jabot and sleeves and an ornate belt buckle are the ornamental features. One manufacturer of a tunic dress pointed out that the college girl could use it three ways. The blouse being in coat style with side closing can be used with its matching skirt as a two-piece; it can be worn over a matching or contrasting silk or wool dress as a three-quarter coat, and coupled with its own skirt and a silk or jersey blouse it may become the jacket of a suit.

FRENCH PEOPLE ADMIRE CANADA

Mme. H. M. Archibald Speaks of Close Relations Between Two Countries

The growing friendliness between Canada and France was very noticeable, said Madame H. M. Archibald, in speaking upon the subject of the relations between the two countries before the Kiwanis Club yesterday. In her opinion the war had done much to increase this friendly contact. There were, however, other things that had contributed to it.

In Canada there was noticeable the love of the soil, which was certainly strongly implanted in the French race. The French women liked the Canadian women for the latter's love of home and their alacrity in learning.

The extension of the interest existing between the two countries was seen in the importance of the new C.P.R. offices and the Canadian Legation. France had come to know of Canada's products and trade was developing. There were some obstacles in trade to be righted, but the commercial business was developing rapidly. Of the tourists who went to France, none were more welcome than the Canadians.

BANKS POPULAR

Canadian banks, which had opened in Paris, were very popular and the promptness with which the business was transacted through these institutions was very much appreciated. French artists and other professional classes were coming to Canada in increasing numbers, while students from Canadian colleges were going to France for training. The advantages of going to Paris were set out by the speaker, who claimed that there was plunged into a mental activity which was obtained nowhere else to the same extent. There was no branch of knowledge which could not be stimulated in Paris.

Residents of France felt less homesick, she said, in Canada than in any other country. There was a strange bond of natural sympathy between the people of the two countries.

The movie manager was furious. "What's the matter?" asked his assistant. "Is anything wrong?"

"Anything wrong!" he snorted. "Why, you've advertised for next week: 'Smiling Eyes—with a strong cast!'"

At the Theatres

CAPITOL THEATRE Alison Skipworth, who scored signally in "Madame Racketeer," and is now appearing in "He Learned About Women," at the Capitol Theatre, was long famous on Broadway before she ever thought of invading Hollywood. Miss Skipworth, one of the stage's best-known character actresses, appeared in more than 100 outstanding Broadway stage plays in her career. "Almost Married" is the added feature at the Capitol Theatre.

COLUMBIA THEATRE Hal Roberts and his famous University of California band provide collegiate songs for football scenes of "Hold 'Em Jail," now at the Columbia Theatre, RKO-Radio's new Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey starring comedy. The film was inspired by the exploits of a penitentiary football team.

DOMINION THEATRE "Red Dust," now at the Dominion Theatre, presents the interesting combination of Clark Gable and Jean Harlow in a turbulent story of Cochin, China. The picture is based on the Wilson Collison stage hit of the same title, in which is depicted the dramatic triangle which results when the aristocratic wife of a French engineer visits a tropical rubber plantation and falls in love with its overseer, thus engendering the hatred of a defiant, hard-boiled girl of the dance hall variety, who has prior claims on the man.

EMPIRE THEATRE Old Willie Warde, who plays in "Mischief," now at the Empire Theatre, has the remarkable record of seventy-two years on the stage. As an infant of two years and three months he appeared at the Winchester Hall, Southwark Bridge Road, in 1860. At five years of age he was an actor in earnest, appearing in pantomime at the Theatre Royal, Dublin. In his earlier days he was a very fine dancer as well as capable ballet master.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE Miriam Hopkins has been a very busy girl since she went to Hollywood, following the filming of "The Smiling Lieutenant" at the Paramount New York studio. After completing a long stretch of exacting work in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," she started in with "Dancers in the Dark," which is the Playhouse Theatre's feature for the last times today. In this picture Miss Hopkins co-features with Jack Oakie, William Collier, Jr., and Eugene Pallette.

"THE QUEEN'S HUSBAND" TO BE PRESENTED HERE

Of genuine interest to local theatregoers is the fact that when Maurice Colbourne and Barry Jones bring to the Royal Victoria for one night only, Monday, December 12, their sensational success of last season, "The Queen's Husband," they will bring the same cast, with one exception, which supported them throughout the London run at the Ambassadors Theatre, and which delighted Canadians in the East during their brief history-making tour of last Spring. Interrupting their London run, as they did, to come to Canada, Colbourne and Jones established an unprecedented record—never before had a London success attempted such a venture.

Miss Maisie Darrell, an exceptionally clever London actress, is the one change, and it was through the kindness of Leon M. Lion, noted London producer, releasing Miss Darrell from the London run of Galsworthy's "Loyalties" that Colbourne and Jones were able to secure her services.

The balance of the cast, including Miss Grace Lane, one of London's greatest leading ladies, will be the same.

Arion Club Plans Fine Programme

In response to the request to include more light and humorous numbers in the programme, the Arion Club, at its concert at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Tuesday, December 6, will sing "The Spider and the Fly" (Caldicott), "Oh, No, John!" (Somerset folk song) and "At the Play" (Cecil Forsyth).

The programme for this concert will also include three compositions by Dudley Buck: "The Nun of Nidaros" (Longfellow's poem) in which the tenor solo will be sung by Llewellyn Jones; "The Signal Resounds," and "Bugle Song" (from Tennyson's Princess). The bugle parts in the last of these numbers will be played by J. Mossop and A. Stafford.

Frank Sehl will conduct the forthcoming concert, and Mrs. C. C. Warn will be at the piano. Mrs. Olive V. Kurth, contralto, of Vancouver, has been engaged as assisting artiste, her contributions to include the works of Schubert and Stanford, while the second group will be composed of English folk songs.

MUCH TIME DEVOTED TO PRODUCING PLAY

George S. Kaufman and Marc Connelly, in their three-act comedy, "Dulcy," poke subtle fun at the type of wife who tries to manage her husband's big business deals from the drawing-room. From the first five minutes of act one, to the final curtain of act three, "Dulcy," is an unbroken series of hilarious tragedies which reach a climax when it is discovered that one of Dulcy's honored guests in a lunatic. However, her final blunder which unexpectedly crowns all her mistaken efforts, ends in success, and Dulcy, in her own inimitable way, retires from the business world.

Various committees of the Little Theatre Association have given much time and thought to the technical side of the staging of this play, and the properties and lighting effects have had special attention. "Dulcy" is showing at the Shrine Auditorium, Saturday, December 3.

VOTERS ATTEND WARD MEETING

Candidates for Civic Office Address Electors at North Ward School

Candidates for the five vacant seats on the Victoria City Council addressed a meeting of electors at the North Ward School last night, at which E. B. Andros, candidate for the mayoralty, was the principal speaker.

All candidates were given five minutes in which to present their appeals and to briefly review their various platforms. Most of the candidates were strongly opposed to any further increases in taxation, and advocated a policy of strict economy during the coming year.

The candidates addressed the meeting in the following order:

CHARLES CHIVERS

Charles Chivers, candidate for City Council, endorsed by the Trades and Labor Council, dealt mainly with the unemployment and urged that labor be represented on the council. "You are paying more than a million dollars a year in interest. The bondholders have no consideration for the labor man," he said. The attitude of the council in cutting wages lowered the standard of living all through the city, Mr. Chivers claimed. He mentioned that Calgary and Edmonton had recently elected labor candidates to all civic offices. The Mayor of Edmonton is a labor man, he stated.

FRED J. CROWHURST

Fred J. Crowhurst, nominee for the aldermanic board, said he would promise, if elected, to bring what municipal experience he had in aid of all matters of general interest to the whole community. He advocated a policy of strict economy in the administration of the city affairs in such a manner that it would not tend to lower the standard of living of the citizens.

ARTHUR HINDER

Arthur Hinder, candidate for council, declared he was openly endorsing the platform outlined by Mr. Andros. "Mr. Andros is the only candidate for mayor who has a platform," he said. Mr. Hinder suggested that a complete inquiry be made of the water agreements, and ascertain why the outside municipalities are obtaining cheaper rates than Victoria. "A request is before the council asking for an investigation, but nothing has been done, except the council has secured legal advice," Mr. Hinder stated.

WALTER INWARD

Walter Inward, candidate for the City Council, was the next speaker. "About this water agreement, I suggest we appeal to the Legislature to protest against this waterworks deal. Victoria is nothing more or less than a wet nurse for the surrounding municipalities," Mr. Inward stated. He reiterated his demand for a return to the ward system of electing candidates to civic office. He claimed that under the present system the vote was controlled by a specific group.

FRANK LEROY

Frank LeRoy, candidate for the City Council, referred to what he considered must have been a pitiable sight when hundreds of men stood for hours in the rain trying to get a little money for Christmas. "Don't let us say they don't want to work," said Mr. LeRoy. Referring to the "balanced budget," he stated, "Don't allow yourselves to be deceived by a budget balanced in December. I want to see a budget balanced in May." He asked, "how was the budget balanced?" and replied, "by borrowing $900,000. You can bet that if the balance is struck, it will go down in red ink before next May," the speaker stated.

ANDREW McGAVIN

Andrew McGavin, who is seeking election to one of the five vacant seats on the City Council, appealed to the taxpayers on his record while on the police commission. He said he would fight for the retention of the privileges of the people. He urged strict economy in all matters of administration, and would aid all measures to relieve the stress and strain now upon the men who are at present out of employment.

C. H. McMILLAN

Cunningham H. McMillan, candidate for City Council, touched mainly on the increase in taxation and unemployment. "It is now becoming an unbearable burden, which the taxpayers can no longer carry," Mr. McMillan declared. He said he would endeavor to see that wages of workmen would be maintained at $4 a day. He did not, he said, approve of replacing two relief men for one man permanently employed and at relief rates.

MRS. ALICE McGREGOR

Mrs. Alice McGregor, the only woman candidate for City Council, was the final speaker, and she urged that women voters in Victoria be represented on the council. She stated she possessed the courage to deal with civic problems without fear, and she would not, she said, allow anyone to "put anything over me." Mrs. McGregor advocated closer attention to the expenditures at the City Hall. "The support I have received in this contest assures me of success at the polls, and I can truthfully say that I will give my earnest consideration to all matters of your concern." She criticized Mayor Leeming's statement that a referendum on the publicity grant "was not British."

Continue Efforts to Collect Income Taxes

Efforts by the provincial taxation office to bring in overdue payments on income taxes are being maintained without alteration, it was said yesterday at the Legislative Buildings. Victoria, it was said, has a comparatively clear record in this respect, though several hundred cases of delinquent taxpayers are listed in Vancouver. Federal officials in the area are not exempt from the provincial levy, it was reiterated.

MUST CUT DOWN TO LESSEN TAX

E. B. Andros Declares He Is Wholly Opposed to Any Further Increase

"Mayor Leeming has never denied at any stage of this campaign that he would not take advantage of the authority to increase the local improvement tax to 75 per cent, and therefor it is only reasonable to assume that he intends to do it," declared E. B. Andros, candidate for mayor, speaking at a meeting of ratepayers at the North Ward School last night.

"As I have stated at every meeting I have attended, I am absolutely opposed to any further increases of taxes in this city," Mr. Andros continued. "If we must cut our expenditures to lessen the load, then by all means let us do it. Let us begin with the publicity grant and use that money to lighten the load to some extent and do away entirely with all expenditures that are not wholly necessary to the efficient administration of the city's business," he said.

UNEMPLOYMENT AID

After reviewing his platform, Mr. Andros touched on the unemployment situation. "I am not going to stand idly by and see our citizens suffer. I believe that it is a Federal problem, but until the Federal Government takes hold, we must continue to aid our citizens who, through no fault of their own, are without the ordinary necessities of life. I believe in the amalgamation of all unemployed aid organizations under one special committee of the City Council, and that is what I am going to do."

Mr. Andros said he did not consider it fair for the city of Victoria to shoulder the whole burden of unemployment while the outside municipalities only contributed a very small pecentage of the amount required to take care of the out-of-work citizens. Oak Bay, he mentioned, was a municipality which could well afford to assume its share of the responsibility.

QUESTIONS SPEAKER

One member of the audience asked if it was true that some men on the city work were being paid $4 a day and others receiving only $3. He said that was a matter that required investigation. This same questioner referred to the hundreds of men who went to the Outer Wharves yesterday morning in search of work. "They were held back by police officers. It was a pretty sight for the mayor and aldermen to see," the questioner remarked.

"That only goes to show," Mr. Andros replied, "that the council should at once get down to a system of saving public funds. We must cut down our expenditures, and little by little we will add to what we have to help those who have nothing."

POWER OF VOTE

Mr. Andros urged the electors to awaken and to realize the power they hold. "It is for you to use that power to have things run the way you want them run. We've had enough of this clique government. Do they respect your expressed wishes? What about the airport? Haven't they told you they are not going to submit a referendum on the publicity grant? Isn't that plain enough that they will not do your bidding? were some of the questions Mr. Andros asked of his audience.

WILL MEET TONIGHT

The swimming club of the Y.M.C.A. will hold a special meeting this evening to complete arrangements for the proposed swimming gala.

IMPERIAL BANK OF CANADA 58TH ANNUAL MEETING

Addresses of President and General Manager—

STRONG LIQUID POSITION

SEE THE LIGHT OF BETTER TIMES

The Annual meeting of shareholders was held at the Head Office, Toronto, on Wednesday, Nov. 23, The President, Mr. Frank A. Rolph, took the chair at noon, and in moving adoption of the report, said:

President's Address

THE BANK'S YEAR

Gentlemen: The year through which we have passed since our last Annual meeting has been an eventful one. Business conditions have been far from good, but under the circumstances we have good reason to be proud of the showing made by the Balance Sheet placed before you. Due to failing prices and the necessity for many of our citizens to encroach on their savings for ordinary living expenses, total assets, in common with other Banks and financial institutions, are down slightly. As a natural sequence profits are also slightly down, making advisable a reduction in the rate of dividend paid (again in common with other Banks), to 10 per cent per annum. This, we feel, is a wise precaution, under existing conditions and one in which we trust you will fully concur.

BUSINESS AND PRODUCTION IN CANADA

Reports from our branches indicate that field crops in Ontario have been abundant. In Alberta good crops are reported with extremely low prices. In Manitoba the yield was considerably better than last year; in Southern Saskatchewan the yield of wheat was only 3 to 12 bushels per acre, but this is against a total failure last year. On the whole, the Prairie Provinces can be said to be better off than they were a year ago. There will be less distress and most farmers will have enough seed and feed to carry them through the Winter.

In this connection it should not be overlooked that many of our North Western farmers have no debts of any kind and that farming in that vast area is now being conducted on a more economic scale than for many years; in other words, the farmer, like the people, has been adjusting himself to meet the new conditions with which he is faced.

The apple crop in Canada, according to Government statistics, amounts to 3,157,000 barrels this year, as compared with 3,793,052 barrels in 1931. The falling off was in Ontario and Nova Scotia, but in British Columbia they had an increase of 1,000,000 boxes over 1931. In Ontario all varieties of fruits yielded heavily, especially grapes, but generally speaking prices were much lower.

The potato crop from all over Canada shows a 20 per cent drop from that of 1931, but with greatly improved prices. Apparently considerable damage to potatoes has occurred through blight, particularly in Ontario.

The yield of tobacco, the growing of which has developed into an important industry, was good, but again the prices have been lower. In this connection it is interesting to note that successful experiments in the growing of tobacco have taken place in the Province of British Columbia, where the outlook for this crop is considered promising. Coal mining and lumbering are on a declining scale, particularly in British Columbia. In that Province business is being aided by some new developments in the mining of metals and the salmon pack is larger, but, unfortunately, the increase is in the lower quality of fish. Vancouver, the principal city of British Columbia, is steadily gaining as a shipping centre, largely due to the export of grain, and, on the whole, the prospects in British Columbia can be considered reasonably good.

NEWSPRINT SITUATION NEEDS CORRECTION

The situation in the newsprint industry is serious, and it is little short of a national folly that the products of our forests and of our well-equipped mills should be sold at less than cost, which, of course, includes a reasonable return on the capital supplied by bona fide investors. It behooves those in charge to take steps to remedy this situation before they are forced to do so by possible Government action.

Business conditions are still unsettled, but I subscribe with those who believe the tide is turning, and while the upturn will necessarily be slow and depends upon many factors which are both national and international in character which will require to be settled, I continue to have unbounded faith in the ability of our people to pull through. The load of taxation is still heavy and is stifling to business, and a heavy responsibility lies upon all in authority to bring about reductions at the earliest moment it is economically possible to do so.

IMMIGRATION

Immigration shows a falling off of about 10,000 in the ten months ending July, 1932, as compared with the ten months ending July, 1931. The largest number of immigrants are still coming from the United States.

COMMODITY PRICES

The latest report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics shows that the wholesale prices of important commodities have not changed very materially from January 1, 1932, to September, 1932. Of 30 commodities, 16 are slightly down, 8 are up and 6 unchanged. Since that time, however, there has been a betterment, and with the increased markets we are fully justified in expecting, especially with Great Britain, a considerable increase in the value of our exports and a further rise in prices.

CENTRAL BANK

The proposal to establish a Central Bank in Canada is one for which it is difficult to see the necessity. It would not provide additional credit beyond what is already accorded by our Canadian Banking System, with the assistance of the present Finance Act. Credit is being provided by the Canadian Banks where credit is justified, and in these days Banks are functioning to give the maximum of service to the people combined with ample security for their depositors. More than ever, in these days, our Banks consider themselves in the position of trustees and are endeavoring to prove worthy of their trust. Mr. Phipps, however, is much better posted in connection with this question of a Central Bank, and I have no doubt he will make reference to it in his address.

THE RAILWAY PROBLEM

I would like to say here that I hope our Government, when disposing of the railway problem, which is now under discussion in the Senate, will, in their wisdom, be able to find a solution which will not in any way interfere with the freedom of management of the Canadian Pacific Railway, which is perhaps Canada's greatest asset and which has been so competently managed by its own officials and Directors for a period of over fifty years. The appointment of a committee with authority to supersede the President and Directors in matters of policy would be, in my opinion, unprecedented and would be striking directly at the right of shareholders and security holders both at home and abroad to manage the business which belongs to them.

IMPERIAL ECONOMIC CONFERENCE

Perhaps the most outstanding event of the year was the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa, and it is only fitting that the Prime Minister and his colleagues be congratulated upon the success achieved. It is a little early yet to determine the benefits which will accrue to Canada as a result of the Conference, but the ground work has been laid and it is now up to the Canadian people to take advantage of the opportunities which have been provided for them. As the Prime Minister stated a short time ago in his own home City of Calgary, "You have cried for markets—now they are here—take them." We have certainly every reason to look for largely increased export business with Great Britain and with the other British Dominions, provided prices are right and the difficulties of exchange can be overcome.

With the agreement reached between the United Kingdom and Canada, we are assured of a much larger share of the British market in regard to wheat and flour, provided world prices are such as will permit us to take advantage of them. Similarly in regard to bacon—the quota which has been suggested should give five time the export volume of business to Canadian Hog Raisers and Bacon Packers. For the Fruit Growers in Canada there will also be an excellent Market in Great Britain, which we have failed to take full advantage of in the past, owing largely, I think, to our failure to comply with the British demands in regard to quality and method of packing. Careful study should be made of the British market requirements in regard to our apples and other fruits and vegetables. There is no use in our attempting to force our method of packing and our standard of quality on the British public. There is no more conservative market in the world than that of Great Britain and a careful study of its requirements must be made if we are to take advantage of the opportunity presented for selling these products to Great Britain. In regard to Canadian manufacturers, and also to our Lumber Mills, the situation is a little uncertain, but Great Britain has given us preferences which should be helpful. Let us take full advantage of our London Office, presided over by the High Commissioner for Canada, in getting the fullest information, as well as by personal representation on the part of those interested in these products, and establish a proper understanding and knowledge of what is required so that we may take advantage of the opportunities as they arise.

WORLD ECONOMIC CONFERENCE

The World Economic Conference which is to be held in London shortly is one which we are hopeful, by means of compromise and co-operation, will produce a betterment in international affairs. The success which attended our Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa make us hope that a similar result will follow the World Conference. The problems, however, are much more complex in view of the widely divergent views throughout the world on such vital questions as tariffs, reparations and standards of living. The events of the past three years, however, should demonstrate that international co-operation is essential in the conditions existing today. Nations as well as individuals are naturally selfish, but the conditions at present are such as to make it necessary that all representatives at the Conference give the most serious considerations to the problems affecting all nations and we are hopeful that the results of the World Conference will meet with a reasonable measure of success, and that, in any case, we will learn more intimately the problems of the various units which make up this complex world of ours. Patience and forebearance and a careful hearing given to the problems affecting all countries will, no doubt, do much to give us a kindlier understanding of one another's difficulties, problems and aspirations.

In conclusion, let me say we have every reason to be thankful and to be proud of the results of the year just closed. We may congratulate ourselves that we have opportunities for developing business due to the Imperial Economic Conference and which will be further stabilized by the results of the coming World Economic Conference, and that there is a greater feeling of optimism throughout the country than there has been for two years. Let us do our part in taking advantage of these opportunities and carry on with confidence and courage looking toward the further development of our great Dominion.

Before moving the adoption of the Report, it affords me great pleasure to announce that the Directors have elected to the Board Mr. W. B. Woods, son of our former honored and esteemed Vice-President, Sir James Woods. Mr. Woods is Vice-President of the Gordon Mackay Company, Limited, and brings very valuable knowledge and experience to assist in directing the affairs of the Bank. We bid him a very hearty welcome.

I would again like to record our very high appreciation of the entire staff of the Bank. They have labored long and faithfully and with great efficiency during trying times.

Mr. A. E. Phipps

GENERAL MANAGER

I have much pleasure in complying with the President's request that I should explain the Profit and Loss Account and the Balance Sheet which you have in your hands, and which, I trust, you will find thoroughly satisfactory. All of you who are actively engaged in business must fully realize the difficulties that have surrounded all classes of business undertakings during the year. Banks have not been exceptions, and I think you will appreciate that our statements might have been less satisfactory without there being any cause for complaint. As it is, the total assets are down approximately 9 per cent, and the same rate of reduction follows through the deposits, the loans, the liquid assets, and in fact almost every item in the Balance Sheet.

PROFITS 1 PER CENT OF ASSETS

It is rather remarkable that the profits of your Bank very consistently amount to about 1 per cent of the total assets; thus last year when the assets were $139,000,000 the profits were $1,328,000, and this year the assets are $127,000,000 and the profits are $1,205,000. These profits are arrived at after the usual careful revaluation of our assets and after the necessary amounts have been subtracted from the earnings to provide in full for bad and doubtful debts. The profits equal 8 per cent on the paid-up capital and rest account combined. After providing for the dividend and contributions to the guarantee and pension funds and for Dominion Government and other taxes the profits have been applied to writing a further $250,000 off Bank Premises account, and $150,000 has been provided for depreciation in securities or other assets, a similar provision to the extent of $250,000 having been made a year ago. There is left to be carried forward a balance of $544,743.51, compared with $761,908.50 a year ago. Although the shareholders received dividends totalling 11½ per cent for the fiscal year, the dividend was placed by the Directors at 10 per cent per annum for the last quarter, a policy in which I fully concur, and which has been adopted, I think, by every other Bank in Canada. The fact of the matter is that with diminishing business there must be diminishing earnings, and until business revives, with the resultant swelling again of the amounts of money made available to the Banks through employment, the earnings expressed in terms of capital cannot be expected to grow. We hope that the return of such conditions is not far away.

THE BALANCE SHEET

Turning to the Balance Sheet, the liabilities to the public sharply reflect the decline in general business. The notes of the Bank in circulation, at $8,021,000, are lower by upward of $900,000, and the deposits, at $99,712,531.80, are down slightly over $9,000,000, of which over $2,000,000 is in the not-bearing-interest class, and slightly over $7,000,000 in the deposits bearing interest. We consider this showing satisfactory enough. Many people must be taking their savings to live on. There have been heavy demands upon Bank deposits by the National Service Loan and other issues of securities floated on the Canadian market, which continued heavy and powerful drain. The other items in the liabilities merely represent our transactions with our banking connections at home and abroad, and call for no remark. Summing up, our liabilities to the public are down, as I said, just about 9 per cent.

QUICK ASSETS 56% OF TOTAL

We find that our specie, Dominion Government notes, and United States and other currencies, stand at $8,379,242.44. Our total cash assets are $19,675,378.47, compared with $20,895,270.28 a year ago, a reduction of $1,219,891.81. Including, as is customary, other quick assets, such as Government and Municipal bonds, loans to Provincial Governments and Municipalities, and Call Loans, the total of readily realizable assets is $62,876,628.54. The percentage of cash assets to the total liabilities to the public is 17½ per cent, and of total quick assets, 56 per cent, which is a slightly higher percentage than last year.

The current loans have shrunk from $65,108,364.65 to $57,467,654.16, a reduction of $7,640,710.49. From September, 1931, until September 30, 1932, the current loans in Canada of all the Banks decreased by $123,262,000, so that there is nothing remarkable in the decrease in our loans, which, of course, is due to the drying up of business, smaller prices paid for products, et cetera, and is the principal cause of the reduction in earnings by the Bank.

QUALITY OF LOANS HIGH

We are happy to say that we consider the quality of the loans of the Bank as high as it has ever been, and we have no major difficulties in sight in connection with any of them; our securities, too, consist of Government and Municipal Bonds only, and are included in the balance sheet at market value or less. Non-current loans, $220,853.49, compare with $238,177.54 last year. Real Estate and Mortgages on Real Estate Sold and Other Assets all show a slight reduction due to liquidation.

BANK PREMISES ACCOUNT REDUCED

The Bank Premises account, which stood at $6,300,000 a year ago, now stands at $6,000,000. Our expenditures on Bank Premises other than the erection of two small offices, one at Stamford, Ontario, and one at St. Vital, a suburb of Winnipeg, were negligible during the year, and the reduction in the account has been brought about by the customary write-off and by the sum that is set aside in the Profit and Loss account. We consider that the Bank has a very substantial equity in its Bank Premises account.

BRANCHES NUMBER 218

The Branches of the Bank number 218, a reduction of nine from last year. The reduction, of course, has been brought about by closing unprofitable Branches, a procedure that has been somewhat accelerated, I think, in all the Banks by the persistence with which taxes on country offices are increased without regard to their earning capacity. It seems to me that if this policy is persisted in it will only be a matter of a short time before the banking facilities afforded in country places may be quite sharply curtailed.

SHAREHOLDERS 2,640

The number of shareholders total 2,640, compared with 2,592 a year ago, an increase of 48. Shareholders in the United States now number 360, against 350 a year ago, an increase of 10, and the number of shares held by those resident in the States has increased from 8,755 to 8,976.

STAFF 1,469

The staff have worked well and loyally under trying conditions of business, which have called for a very high degree of watchfulness and care. Our staff now number 1,469, as compared with 1,529 a year ago.

The Bank Act was due for revision in 1933, but the Government, no doubt for very good reasons, have decided to postpone the revision for another year. The postponement, so far as I know, was not due to any request or suggestion from the Banks, but no doubt will prove to be a wise decision. In some quarters there have arisen claims that coupled with the revision should be the establishment of a Central Bank in Canada, and the delay in bringing on the revision will give an opportunity for the advocates of a Central Bank to reconsider, and, I hope, abandon their idea. What good purpose a Central Bank could serve is something that I, for one, cannot see. Under our present system the Finance Act, with a minimum of expense, as far as operating charges are concerned, and with profit to the Government, provides the chief feature of any Central Banking system; that is, it permits commercial Banks needing currency with which to facilitate the business of the country to receive it on the deposit of securities as in the Act defined.

THE ARGUMENT AGAINST CENTRAL BANK

A Central Bank in Canada could not increase banking resources or currency based on resources by a single dollar over what is now possible under existing legislation, nor could a Central Bank legitimately make available more credit than can now be supplied by the Chartered Banks through the elasticity of the Finance Act.

FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM IMPERFECT

It is interesting to recall that when financial depression on a large scale hit the United States that the Federal Reserve System of that country, which was restricted by regulations such as, generally speaking, govern a Central Bank, was not able to cope with the situation, but other measures (for one, the Reconstruction Credit Corporation based on the lines of the Canadian Finance Act) were enacted for the purpose of making available more credit and more money than it was possible to obtain from the Reserve Banks owing to the restrictions imposed upon them. If you can imagine the United States with a Finance Act instead of a Federal Reserve System, there would have been no cause for the enactment of special laws, and in fact there need never have been any money panic. Another question which does not seem to have received consideration is where the capital is to come from as well as the deposits required to build up the Central institution. Presumably, these can only come from the Banks, and any reserves that would have to be set up by a Central Bank would be in addition to the reserves of the Chartered Banks, and would tighten the money situation just to that extent. I fail to see one single benefit that Canada might expect from the establishment of a Central Bank, and I see a number of drawbacks. A Central Bank cannot be established without heavy expenses—no doubt its sponsors will say otherwise, but those I have in mind would be hard to control. It is not difficult to visualize the agitation for an imposing Head Office, expensive Branch offices for every Province, and highly paid Managers and staff at the Head Office and the branches with no benefits to the country, and with not a whit more banking credit or currency than there is now available. A Central Bank once established is established for all time, and the expense goes on forever. The country has experimented at great and mounting cost with many public services in fields well served by private enterprise—to mention only two, the Railways and the Steamships. I look upon the agitation for a Central Bank in Canada as unwise, and I hope for the national good that no attempt will be made to invade the field of banking, which is one of the few business enterprises which most of our own people and all the rest of the world deem to think on a thoroughly satisfactory basis, as it is, and that no drastic or experimental changes will be made in the Canadian Bank Act under which the Nation has been adequately served ever since the Act came into being.

A GLIMMER OF LIGHT

I am not going to make any remarks on general business conditions, that being the privilege of the President, but I fully concur in the President's belief that the tide in business is turning for the better. We still have before us the problems arising from the low prices prevailing for agricultural and other commodities, the tangled newsprint situation and the terrific problem of the Railways, but all these are being grappled with by men of the highest executive ability and in time will be solved. Generally, I seem to see a slight improvement in business and a glimmer of light at the end of the long tunnel of depression through which we are passing. When we will emerge into the light of resumed prosperity no one can say, but I concur in the opinion expressed a few days ago by Mr. J. A. McLeod, President of the Canadian Bankers' Association, that the depth of the depression was reached a few months back and that we in Canada are commencing to climb slowly and perhaps laboriously toward the light of better times. Holding these views the policy of the Imperial Bank of Canada will continue to be one of growth and advancement along safe and conservative lines. We will continue to give the very highest service to all, assisting to the fullest extent consistent with safety those of our customers who are struggling honestly with adversity and extending the utmost leniency to our agricultural friends and customers for whom the going has been so hard with the endeavor always before us to keep the farmer on the land until he has the opportunity to win through. It must be a source of satisfaction to you, as it is to me and my colleagues, to realize that the position of your Bank is such as to enable this policy to be carried through until the clouds of depression have been rolled back and the sun of prosperity shines once again. We have a country second to none on earth, a strong virile people, and no matter what the present conditions may be, we can look confidently forward to the future. Before sitting down I would like to express by thanks to the President and the Vice-Presidents and the other members of the Board for the constant, painstaking assistance afforded throughout the year and to express my pleasure that the selection of a new Director fell upon Mr. W. B. Woods, who takes a keen interest in his duties and is already helpful in a great many ways.

The following Shareholders were elected Directors: Frank A. Rolph, Lieut.-Col. J. F. Michie, R. S. Waldie, George C. Heintzman, J. W. Hobbs, Walter C. Laidlaw, John A. Northway, A. E. Phipps, Henry K. Sellers (Winnipeg), Gordon H. Aikins, K.C. (Winnipeg), R. O. McCulloch (Galt), W. B. Woods.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, Frank A. Rolph was re-elected President and Col. J. F. Michie and R. S. Waldie Vice-Presidents.

Famous Swimmers Wed

MARGARET Ravior, Olympic swimmer and long-distance aquatic star, on November 23 became the bride of George Young, of Toronto, Canada, who, as a lad of seventeen, won the grueling thirty-mile Catalina Island marathon swim. The ceremony took place at the home of George Kellerman, an uncle of the bride, in Philadelphia, Pa. The bride and groom are shown above after the marriage ceremony.

The Big Hand Goes to Ruel, but Only a Thumb to Grange

Famous Baseball Idol Gets Plaudits on Release, But "77's" Retirement a Line Item

By WILLIAM RITT

(Central Press Canadian Sports Editor)

Herold and Harold drop simultaneously from the world of big-time sport. Both were splendid athletes—stars over a long period. But Herold's passing from the crowd that gets the big sport headlines has caused a ripple, while Harold's withdrawal from the forward phalanx of his game is the signal for a barrage of stories and pictures sprinkling a thousand sport pages.

MUDDY RUEL

Herold is a baseball player. His nickname is Muddy and his last name is Ruel. He was a great catcher.

Harold is a football player. His nickname is Muddy and his last name is Grange. He was a great halfback.

Both are passing from the big show this month—Ruddy Ruel involuntarily—his club, the Detroit Tigers, giving him his release. Grange says he is through and quitting while he is still good enough and young enough not to earn those stinging tags—"has been" and "grand old man."

Muddy Ruel, in his prime, was probably as great a baseball catches as Grange was a halfback. No one will ever know, because it is impossible to form an opinion in matters of that sort. But he was the best in his league—and that's as far as you can go in any sport — or anywhere else in life.

RED GRANGE

He has played big league baseball for the last eighteen seasons, continuously for the last sixteen years. And only in two seasons, despite his greatness, did Ruel really get into the big money—in 1924 and 1925 when Washington won the American League championship and Ruel played the world series.

As for Grange, everyone who has ever read a sport page knows who he is and what he has done in football. And they know that Grange won a fortune through his football ability.

Ruel was a big leaguer from the start. He broke into the game with the St. Louis Browns in 1915. However, several seasons of professional baseball were necessary before Ruel became a star.

Grange underwent several seasons of obscurity in scholastic football and then four years, one as a freshman player and three as a varsity man before he turned professional.

But the day Grange became a professional he was a ready-made star. Thus, though his professional career has lasted but eight or nine years to Muddy Ruel's eighteen he has collected far more money.

The answer is—Grange fairly blazed with that elusive quality called "color." That, coupled with great gridiron ability made him the most popular football hero of all time. Ruel was just a great baseball catcher.

St. John's and Roughriders Share Honors in Making Western Canada Mythical Rugby Team—Ritchie Unanimous Choice as Coach

WINNIPEG, Nov. 29.—Duellists for the Western Canada senior Rugby football championship this year, Winnipeg St. John's and Regina Roughriders, share the honors in making up the first Canadian Press Western all-star Rugby team, product of polling by nine sports writers throughout Western Canada.

With the exception of three players from the Manitoba capital and one from Calgary, the Western Canada titlists who will travel East to fight Hamilton Tigers for the Dominion title, compose the mythical team, and their coach, Al Ritchie, was the unanimous choice of all writers for mentor of the all-stars.

The honor team, which emerges from the consensus of individual selections requested by the Canadian Press, follows:

Flying wing—Curtis Schave, Regina Roughriders.

Half—Eddie James, Winnipeg St. John's.

Half—Rush Rebholtz, Winnipeg St. John's.

Half — Alex McKenzie, Calgary Altomahs.

Quarter—Austin Defrate, Regina Roughriders.

Snap—Jersey Campbell, Regina Roughriders.

Inside—Bill Mjogdalen, Regina Roughriders.

Inside—Jack Thompson, Regina Roughriders.

Middle—Johnny Garuik, Regina Roughriders.

Middle—Albert Urness, Winnipeg St. John's.

SHORT RESPITE FOR MAN'S BEST FRIENDS

WINNIPEG, Nov. 29 (CP). — Seventy dog-owners who have been unable to furnish licence fees for their pets were dealt with leniently in police court today. A few said they had gone without a few meals and saved money so that they could now pay for the tag. The others were given a week in which it was hoped they would come to "some agreement with the poundkeeper."

"Uncle, will you come and see us?"

"Why, my lad?"

"Mother says it is such a pleasure to see you go again."—Allt for Alla, Stockholm.

CHAPTER XXX

"Listen!" Elsie said to Judy. She went to the big radio set in the corner of the dining-room, snapped on the power, twisted the dials. A cacophonous mixture of voice, of music, of shouts, of static, filled the room. Then the melee ended.

Suddenly, loud and clear, Judy heard the music of some distant orchestra, slow, smooth. And it faded away, there was a sound of applause from a dance place Judy never would see. Then——

"This concludes our programme from the Hollenden House Cafe in Cleveland. Your announcer has been Richard Mason, who bids you good night and good luck.

Dick! Dick's own voice. The same deep, clear voice, the same way of making words sing when they had no reason to sing, the same voice that thousands of girls were hearing and thrilling to at this moment, all over the country.

"Dick! You're Back!"

Girls as pretty as Judy Allison. Girls nicer than Judy Allison. Maybe one of them was sitting with Dick right now, as Judy had with him the night when Dick took her to meet Ben Bernie and Paul Whiteman.

Maybe he was saying things to some girl in the same deep clear voice she remembered so well. Saying the same things he had said to her, and meaning them, and thinking of Judy Allison only as a girl who had lied to him and cheated him.

• • •

So again it was morning and again they stopped at the restaurant, and again Judy and Elsie parted as before. But this time Judy did not ride south, far south. She walked, instead. Up Michigan, then down Michigan. Then on State Street for a long time. Here, in big windows, were gowns she would be talking about, perhaps, in today's show; this kind of bolero, that kind of bias cut, that sort of fur trimming high around the throat, that new little hat with the four-cornered effect. Clothes she would have loved to have because she loved clothes; she loved looking at clothes she couldn't possibly afford. But now they were only dresses in a window.

As going to WAOA, being there just before 10:45 ready to go on the air, was just going on the air again now; not an adventure, not a great triumph, not a thrill at all.

So she waited in the studio. She was early. She had not read through her script. Mustn't get careless. Mustn't forget that words are more than words when you say them to many thousand people. She read carefully.

A good script, again. With the same fresh, eager tone Elton Day seemed to be able to put into every script he wrote. Yet he hated them, he hated doing the work; he really didn't care anything about all this.

Then how could he do it? By detaching himself completely, by forgetting himself. And he had done the trick so often, he had learned it so well, that he was not able to come back to himself any more.

• • •

She saw the clock hands, creeping close to 10:45. Three minutes to go. With professional deftness, learned already, she arranged the script carefully on the little table. She stood up very straight, filling her lungs with air, exhaling deeply, inhaling again. Ten times over.

Dick said it was a trick, it tightened up your muscles, it quieted your nerves, made your voice steady. He was right. Dick was always right. He knew his job. Anything Judy Allison did to make her programme right, to send her voice over the air as it should go, she did because Dick Mason had taught her how. And—

Ten-forty-four. A minute to go. The announcer was at the microphone, his back turned to her, ready. The man in the control room looked strangely familiar. But there was no time to look again. Overhead, the red light flashed. Judy Allison was on the air again.

She could not hear the announcer. But she knew what he was reading —"thousands of letters—she hopes to hear from you as she hears from so many other women . . . She will be glad to give you the benefit of her experience and her special contacts."

"Ready, Judy. Ready. Go ahead."

She read carefully, quietly. No desire to shout, any more, as there had been her first few times when she faced the microphone. This was a job. As long as you could believe you were talking to only one person, you couldn't go wrong. Just go straight ahead. Hit the high points sharply and slowly, so nobody will misunderstand. Go especially slow in the sales talk, so it will really sell. So. It was done.

The announcer took up as she left off. The final sales talk, the address so women could write for the Beauty Builder's advice. Now the light was off. Now it was over.

• • •

Judy gathered up the sheets of the script carefully, folded them, put them in her bag. Tomorrow she'd send a whole file of them home to mother. Mother would show them to the neighbors, and be proud of them, and with pathetic determination she'd try to follow all the suggestions, all the exercises, but in a day or two she'd forget about the old ones, she'd be so busy trying the new ones. But she would be proud of her daughter, telling so many women all these things. Very proud.

The day's work was done. Fifteen minutes a day and you get a $100 check every Saturday. And in a hundred thousand offices a million girls work all day six days a week, and get much less. Lucky Judy Allison. Lucky!

Her mind stood still. She could not breathe. Her eyes were wrong. What she saw was wrong. It couldn't happen. But it had!

Dick Mason himself turned away from the microphone, folded up his script, stuffed it in his pocket, started out of the studio.

"Dick! Dick!"

"Oh, hello, Judy." Cold as ice. Just words, meaning nothing. Just, "Hello, Judy."

"Dick, you're back!"

"Yes. They sent for me. I'm getting paid by the client instead of the station. And I've got the same kind of deal on three other programmes I was announcing. I'm making $410 a week, altogether. I—" He caught himself. The look of pride, of a small boy's pride in triumph, went quickly. His face was composed, his voice was casual once more. "Yes, Judy, I'll be here right along now, I guess. Opening an office in the loop. Doing some consulting service on other programmes. Billy is working with me. You might tell Elsie." Then, "I'll see you tomorrow, I suppose."

"Dick!"

"Hello, Margaret. Waiting long? Sorry. I had to talk to the girl on the programme for a moment. Sorry. Shall we go? How about going up on Rush Street for lunch? I know a nice place with a very good French cook. All right? Fine. Let's be on our way."

A girl Judy never had seen was walking with Dick, talking, laughing, holding his arm tightly. A—Judy fought back the words, but they were right, she knew they were right—a girl who used to be dark and turned platinum blond overnight. A giggling girl, and Dick had hated gigglers. But now—

She learned much more about Dick Mason's triumphant return, and that quickly enough. For news travels fast in the small world which people make out of a radio station. And this was big news to all the little people who had always wanted a chance to do what Dick Mason had done.

It had started with Jenks. With Flavin, that is. Really, with Judy's suggestion, but nobody had told Dick that, and Judy never could tell him. Jenks had found out that Dick was working for a station in Cleveland, had brought him back under contract, had suggested, being an observer and also eager to have Dick Mason happy, that other jobs could be had in the same way.

His voice. Dick realized then, was an asset that people would pay for. So he had simply gone to the clients directly, told them he was at liberty, told them he would go on with their programmes, but only under contract with them. And out of six clients he had sold himself to four.

People around the station said he was earning $500 a week, $1,000. He was living at a fashionable north side hotel. He was driving a new car. He ordered three suits at once. He came into the station just in time for his programme, then disappeared as soon as it was over, then returned for the next.

He was working up programme ideas for a big advertising agency. Jenks had helped him there, but Dick knew his business; he had a name without having realized it before.

He was earning more, ...ll at once, than the man who had discharged him. And the people who had blacklisted him and said he could never work for them again couldn't do anything about it. His clients were theirs, his contracts were as good as theirs.

He came into the studio at 10:45 each day, just in time for the opening announcement. He said nothing to Judy. Once she moved as though to speak. He turned and went out of the other door. After that she only watched him, knowing he knew she was watching, ashamed of herself for weakness. But weakness didn't matter.

She talked to Elsie about it at night, and Elsie talked to Billy once. But Billy, loyal follower of Dick, called Elsie only once to say he was back, to say he was doing well as a special operator and was starting a programme-reporting service under Dick's direction. He didn't call.

If Dick saw no more of Judy, then Billy would see no more of Elsie. That was the way of it and that made Elsie miserable, no matter how thoroughly she hid her misery with clumsy laughter and jokes that were not quite funny.

But something must be done.

Not, Judy assured herself, because of any belief that Dick Mason would be interested. Seeing him leave the building one night in his new car, with the same platinum-blond girl beside him, seeing him again at lunch with a singer who was to work on one of the programmes he was helping to prepare. Seeing him for a moment only as he passed her in the station lobby, cold, distant, not smiling at all, she wanted only to know that he knew the truth. After that it wouldn't matter, she insisted to herself. Just to have Dick understand. Just to make that strained, twisted look go from his face!

When Your Cough Hangs On, Mix This at Home

Saves $2. So Easy! No Cooking!

The best cough remedy that money could buy can easily be mixed at home. It costs very little, yet it's the most reliable, quick-acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs, giving immediate relief, is astonishing.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a 16 oz. bottle, and add granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. To make syrup, use 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. It's no trouble at all, and saves two-thirds of the money a family usually spends on cough medicine. Keeps perfectly and tastes fine.

It is surprising how quickly this loosens the germ-laden phlegm, soothes and heals the inflamed membranes, clears the air passages, and thus ends a severe cough in a hurry.

Pinex is a compound of Norway Pine, in concentrated form, the most reliable healing agent for severe coughs. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Just Roamin' Around

By TWO ROVERS

It is not pleasant to say "good-bye" at any time to old friends; even to new friends it is an ordeal when one knows that it is "for keeps."

However, we two rovers have to do so today to our readers for we are going home in a few days; and, at our time of life, it is a last journey to what we know will be a brighter future under much better conditions. So we are very happy and we are only sorry that there are so many good fellows, kind women and sweet youngsters whom we shall not see again.

Our heartiest and sincerest gratitude to all who have been good friends to us in the past thirty-eight years in British Columbia; and, especially, to those who have encouraged and helped us in our attempt to do good work, and to those who have stood by two rovers, whether we deserved it or not.

We shall never forget any single incident or episode in our life in British Columbia as long as we live; we have every good reason for never forgetting Victoria, or any one we have had the privilege of knowing here.

Like the restless and importunate waves we have striven long, too long, to break the rocks that abound on the coasts of life. Now we shall be content to try to emulate the peaceful tides that are more consistently steadfast, and know more of obedience to inexorable celestial law and order than the restless waves which capricious terrestrial winds create.

Good-bye and God bless you! That's all there is; there isn't any more!

VALE!

At last! the burning sun hath set,
And I have roamed afar!
Without one single sad regret,
I sheath my scimitar!

Amany battles have I fought,
Some drawn, some lost, some won;
And I go to the rest I sought,
Now, at the set of sun!

O! let me not yet idly sleep,
Nor crave a further boon
Than twilight vigil, lone, to keep
Beneath the stars and moon!

Or, by mine own warm fireside,
Amidst the scenes I love;
At home, whatever else betide,
With God's strong arm above!

With all the books I long to read,
With memories—and sweet;
With peace to season every deed,
Within my last retreat!

With friendship's ever strengthened glow;
With fervent good intent;
And — what I pray you all may know—
Long cherished Heart-Content!

We, Randolph Stuart and Kilbee Gordon, two rovers who have long been roamin' around, bid you all Good-bye!

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

REST IS EQUAL TO FOOD

A group of women was discussing the matter of reducing weight, when one who was very stout declared that she was through with dieting. "I have tried and tried to reduce my diet, and I believe that I have been quite faithful, yet I have not lost any weight. I have now decided to try the thyroid extract, as I am persuaded that I am not the type that can reduce weight without it."

"Why, do you know," she said, "I actually lie in bed until noon every day, and just get up in time for lunch, so that I can do without breakfast, and thus lose that much weight. I'll admit I'm ready for lunch and eat a hearty meal, but I think I am entitled to it, as I've done without breakfast."

Now, this woman has likely got as much sense as the rest of us, but when it comes to getting rid of weight, she is making one of the simplest yet biggest mistakes possible.

Although a certain amount of food is needed by the body for its ordinary work—digestion, breathing, the beating of the heart and soforth—a considerable amount is needed to keep the muscles in good condition, which is done when you simply walk around the house doing the little household duties. If instead of lying in bed this woman were to get up, eat the ordinary light breakfast, and do the little houshold duties, all the food eaten at breakfast would be used up by the system before 11 o'clock, in addition to some of the food eaten the night before. By lying in bed in the morning the food eaten the day or night before gets a good opportunity to get deposited in the body as fat, instead of being used or burned up.

In addition to this, by getting up and around, the heart becomes stronger and does more effective work in circulating blood and removing wastes from the body.

The big point to remember is that rest is the same as food to the body. That is the reason that those who are thin or poorly nourished are advised not only to get a long rest at night, but when possible to get a half-hour's rest at 11 o'clock in the morning and 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

So doing without a little food and taking more rest, therefore, means that rest takes the place of food, because no fat is burned or used, and thus no weight is lost.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

Mrs. George Scribner, Nauwigewauk, N.B., writes:—"I was so very nervous I could not sleep at night, and felt tired out all the time.

A neighbor told me about Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and as she was using them at the time she gave me some to try. I found they were doing me so much good I procured two boxes and they proved of wonderful help to me."

Ottawa Defeats Chicago 3-1 in Fast Encounter

Senators Rally in Third Period to Defeat Hawks —Maroons Take Red Wings Into Camp, 5-3, in Wide-Open Game — Rangers Show Form in Whipping Bruins, 6-4

OTTAWA, Nov. 29 (CP).—Ottawa Senators took Chicago Black Hawks into camp here tonight, 3-1, winning a fast, rugged National Hockey League game with a third period rush.

Playing with a broken rib, protected by a heavy pad, Frankie Finnigan broke a two-period deadlock with a solo effort with less than three minutes to go. Wally Kilrea put the game in Ottawa's bag a minute later, scoring on a pass from Cooney Weiland.

Lola Couture, on an assist from Paul Thompson, put the Hawks in the lead in the first two minutes of the game. Weiland amared the equalizer half way through the second period.

It was wide open, speedy hockey. Both teams were on the jump all the time, with front lines changing every three minutes. The Hawks were in difficulties in both the first and second periods through penalties, but all goals were scored with twelve men on the ice.

Summary

First period—1, Chicago, Couture (Thompson), 1:30. Penalties: Graham, Abel.

Second period—2, Ottawa, Weiland, :45. Penalties: Graham (2), Bourgeault.

Third period—3, Ottawa, Finnigan, 17:30; 4, Ottawa, W. Kilrea (Weiland), 18:45. Penalties: None.

MAROONS WHIP WINGS

MONTREAL, Nov. 29.—Montreal Maroons stemmed their losing streak tonight, defeating Jack Adams' Detroit Red Wings, 5-3, in a fast, wide-open National Hockey League game before 5,000 fans.

Maroons had a decided edge on the Detroiters in the first two periods, but the Red Wings fought back strongly in the final frame, and twice were within a goal of tying the count.

The scoring opened half way through the initial period, big Lionel Conacher and Cy Wentworth, Maroons' defencemen, going up the ice together. Lionel scored from close range on Wentworth's pass.

The entire Maroon first line figured in the second goal, Hooley Smith getting his first tally of the season with Northcott and Ward assisting. Each team scored in the second frame, Goodfellow taking a double pass from Eddie Wiseman and Herbie Lewis for Detroit's counter, and Dave Trottier getting a goal for the Montrealers.

The final period was rough, fast and open. Doug Young, Red Wing defenceman and herb Lewis scoring for the visitors. Glen Brydson tallied twice for Maroons, the second counter coming in the last minute of a spectacular rush.

Summary

First period—1, Maroons, Conacher (Wentworth), 8:32; 2, Maroons, Smith (Northcott and Ward), 13:26.

Second period—3, Detroit, Goodfellow (Wiseman and Lewis), 8:28; 4, Montreal, Trottier (Haynes and Northcott), 15:05. Penalties: Carson.

Third period—5, Detroit, Young, 6:31; 6, Maroons, Brydson (Haynes), 8:47; 7, Detroit, Lewis (Wiseman), 14:20; 8, Maroons, Brydson (Haynes), 19:06. Penalties: Bellemer, Wentworth.

RANGERS IN FORM

BOSTON, Nov. 29 (CP).—The speedy New York Rangers hit their stride tonight and overwhelmed Boston Bruins for a 6-4 decision in a hard-fought National Hockey League game. The Rossmen were outplayed at almost every stage as they went down to their first defeat of the season on their home rink.

Rangers were paced by the Cook brothers as they piled up the score, and the hard-checking Ching Johnson kept the Bruins at Bay until the third period, when the local puck chasers gambled for victory by playing four forwards.

Bruins trailed 4-1 until the third was well under way. Ott Heller tallied twice for the victors. Bill and Bun Cook each got one, as did Oside Osmundson and Earl Siebert. Marty Barry scored three of the Boston goals and the other was netted by Harry Oliver.

Both teams had their combination forays working to perfection, and it was this type of attack that produced seven of the game's ten goals. The Cook brothers scored their tallies on lone-man dashes. Earl Seibert, showing a quick return to form, also notched his tally, in the final period, after a solo rush.

It was a game of stiff checks and eighteen penalties were doled out as the officials attempted to stem the rough play. Bruising play reached a head in the third period when Murray Murdoch and Joe Jerwa, ex-Ranger team-mates, traded a few punches before being banished with major penalties.

Summary

First period—1, New York, Heller (Murdoch), 10:33; 2, New York, Osmundson (Voss), 14:42; 3, Boston, Barry (Stewart and Clapper), 17:10. Penalties: Lamb, Brennan, E. Siebert, W. Cook, Shore, W. Cook.

MATE BEATEN BY KINCSEN

Rank Outsider Cops Memorial Handicap at Bowie Race Track

BOWIE, Md., Nov. 29 (AP).—A rank outsider, Kincsen, whipped eleven other thoroughbreds today to win the Bryan and O'Hara Memorial Handicap, feature of the final day of Maryland's 1932 racing season.

The five-year-old mare, daughter of Cudgell and Buckwheat, beat Mate by a nose and was two lengths ahead of St. Brideaux, winner of the Thanksgiving Handicap.

Victory brought $14,200 to Kincsen's owner, Mrs. F. A. Carreaud. Backers of Kincsen in the mutuels received $35.20 for $2 tickets to win; $14.20 to place and $8 to show.

The brown mare, ridden by Don Meade, negotiated the mile and three-quarters in 1:59 2-5.

Touring Cricketers Defeat Australians by Innings and 44 Runs

New South Wales resumed their second innings with the score at 68 for three wickets, before a small crowd in hot weather. Cummins gave a good exhibition, compiling 71 in 77 minutes. His hits included 12 fours. Don Bradman, the famous batsman, batted 53 minutes for 23 runs and was then bowled by Voce. Oldfield, the Australian wicket keeper, did not bat in the New South Wales second innings.

Voce took five wickets for 85 runs; Allen, two for 52, and Brown, two for 10.

PEDEN AND AUDY TAKE BIKE LEAD

Canadian Speedsters Go to Front in New York Race After Great Spurt

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (CP).—Canada's bike demons, William "Torchy" Peden and "Platinum Blonde" Jules Audy, uncorked a wild burst of speed tonight to regain the lead in Madison Square Garden's six-day ride to nowhere.

Three laps behind the pacemakers at 9 o'clock tonight, the young giant from Victoria smiled at well-wishers who offered "condolences" and assured them the team from the land of the Maple Leaf would be back in the lead by midnight. He was as good as his word.

As soon as he took over the riding assignment from Audy, Torchy started a wild jam and stole two laps. On two later occasions after working up to the front, Big Bill, aided and abetted by his young Montreal mate, set the pine saucer to humming a tune of speeding tires for additional lap thefts.

The midnight standing showed Peden and Audy one lap ahead of four teams deadlocked in second place. The Canucks had covered 916 miles, 9 laps.

Tod Morgan Shows Class in Workout Before Local Fans

Former World's Champion Makes Initial Debut Here in Training Session at Stadium—Albie and Jumbo Davies in Fine Form

TOD MORGAN

Tod Morgan, of Seattle, former world's junior lightweight champion, made his first appearance in Victoria last night at the Pacific Stadium, when he went through his initial training session in preparation for his ten-round main event with Albie Davies, flashy local fighter, at the Stadium tomorrow evening. It marked the first time in ring history that an ex-champion has shown in the city and a large crowd sat in at the workout. All left the gymnasium greatly impressed with the fine display given by Morgan and Davies, who worked at intervals.

Like Canada's ranking boxer, Jimmy McLarnin, of Vancouver, Morgan stepped into the ring to do shadow boxing, looking more like a young college student or a successful business man than a fighter who has engaged in more actual bouts than any other man in the ring game at the present time. Tod has been boxing for twelve years and not long ago celebrated his twenty-eighth birthday. Due to his superlative boxing ability, he is marked up less than the ordinary fighter.

SHOWS CLASS

Many old-timers who attended the workout stated that Morgan is the most finished ringman to appear here in the history of the game and were surprised at the way the Sound City lad threw punches and let others bounce off his body. His feinting, weaving, bobbing tactics and his fine defence were a treat to watch. All of his punches carried power, especially when he was swapping blows with Frankie Holland, of Spokane, who will meet Jumbo Davies in the six-round semi-wind-up.

Those who have seen Morgan perform against Santiago Zorilla, Billy Townsend, "Wildcat" Carter and other noted boxers, state that he has lost some of his speed, but he offsets this by his increased punching ability. Morgan first went a round with Dave Barr and then took on Morry Graham for another two-minute session. Frankie Holland then stepped in the ring and both lads went at it for four rounds at a terrific pace, with Morgan cutting loose during the third and last sessions with some powerful two-fisted attacks.

Albie Davies worked with Billy Buxton for two rounds and then stepped two more with "Kid" McCoy. Jumbo Davies was the next sparring partner for his brother and both stepped out four rounds at a fast pace. Jumbo was well protected with a large black head gear and Albie's hard blows to the head did not hurt. Jumbo also went two rounds with Kid McCoy and finished strong after throwing blows from all angles.

HAS FINE RECORD

Holland is coming here with a first-class reputation. He held the bantamweight championship of the Coast in 1925, and since turning professional has engaged in more than 100 fights and has only been put to sleep once. For a time he was boxing instructor at Gonzaga University, where he produced several top notchers. He has fought in Mexico, California, Arizona and all over the Northwest. Holland has had four bouts with "Battling" Bullahan, a rugged battler, and has gained three draws and a decision. He has also mixed with Ah Wing Lee, "Doc" Snell, Joe Calder, and lad.

SHUTE WINS MIAMI OPEN

Cleveland Pro Totals 291 for 72 Holes; Revolta Second and Dudley Third

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Nov. 29 (AP). — Densmore Shute, modest twenty-eight-year-old professional from Cleveland, Ohio, pulled wizard tricks from his golf bag today to overcome early leaders and win first place and $2,520.83 in prize money in the $10,000 Miami Biltmore open golf tournament, with a 291 tally for seventy-two holes.

Shute fought a nip-and-tuck battle over the last thirty-six holes today, with John Revolta, twenty-four-year-old Menominee, Mich., dark horse, and Ed Dudley, of Wilmington, Del., before he finally squeezed in ahead of the 292 of Revolta and the 293 of Dudley.

Paul Runyan, of West Chester, N.Y., was in fourth place with a 294; while Gene Sarazen, who had sought his second Miami Biltmore victory in succession, and Al Espinosa, of Akron, Ohio, were in fifth place with 296 each.

Two Coast Loop Fixtures Will Be Played Saturday

ALTHOUGH Saanich Thistles have already been declared first half champions, two First Division fixtures will be played in the Pacific Coast Football League Saturday afternoon. The teams will be fighting for second and third positions, and a great deal of interest centres around the outcome of the matches. Victoria West, cellar occupants, will clash with the Saanich Thistles at the Royal Athletic Park at 2:30 o'clock, with Referee D. Swan in charge, while Esquimalt will battle Victoria City at Hampton Road, at the same hour, with Ralph Alcock as referee. Two games will also be played in the Second Division, Saanich facing the Wests at upper Beacon Hill, with Davies refereeing, and Victoria City meeting Esquimalt at Spencer's Park, with Billy Stewart in charge.

President C. V. Milton, Secretary W. J. Lynn, Fred Oliver, Thomas Briggs, John Sullivan All Retire From Victoria and District League— Alex Marshall Follows Suit

Financialy starved by poor attendances and driven to desperation by lack of support from the British Columbia Football Association, members of the Lower Island Football Association met for the last time last night at the Y.M.C.A., when the whole executive, including President C. V. Milton and Secretary-Treasurer W. J. Lynn, tendered their resignations to the provincial body, and today there is no association to look after the teams in the Victoria and District League except Mainland officials do something.

The resignations of the executive included the following: President C. V. Milton, Secretary-Treasurer W. J. Lynn, Thomas Briggs, Fred Oliver and John Sullivan. This is the group of officials installed when the majority of the others resigned last Fall to join the Pacific Coast Football Association. They carried on as long as they could, and seeing no way clear to go ahead in local soccer circles their next move was to notify the British Columbia body that the L.I.F.A., as far as they were concerned, was dead and buried. They did this and immediately handed over their dates at the Royal Athletic Park to the Coast League.

The letter, addressed to R. Forgie, secretary of the B.C.F.A., and signed by the local executive, was mailed to Vancouver last night. Word was also made known by Alex Marshall, delegate from the Lower Island Association to the provincial body, yesterday that he had resigned owing to pressure of business. It follows:

THE LETTER

"Lower Island Football Ass'n,
"Victoria, B.C., Nov. 29, 1932.
"R. Forgie, Esq., Secretary B.C.F.A., Vancouver.

"Dear Mr. Forgie.—We, the undersigned members of the Board of the L.I.F.A., beg to tender to the B.C.F.A., through you, our resignations, to take effect immediately.

"We are moved to take this action by the apparent lack of concern on the part of the B.C.F.A. as to our position in Victoria, and to the evident fact that the provincial body fails now, and for a long time past has failed to appreciate the point of view of Victoria and district footballers in general.

"While we acknowledge the financial support given us to recoup losses incurred in our early efforts to keep alive in the district organized ball, we have consistently complained to your board of the lack of moral support afforded us in our efforts to deal with the situation brought about by the formation of a local branch of the Pacific Coast Football Association. Our latest appeal to your board, made as long ago as the 16th inst., has even now brought no reply from Vancouver.

"When, after much hesitation and fearful delay, your board at last decided to take action in the matter of the P.C.F.A., they evidently did so without the advice or the assistance of our representative, Mr. Marshall; later, when Vancouver felt that they had gone too far, again without consulting the Victoria representative, they issued a public apology to the leaders of the secession movement in Victoria. Without entering into the question of the rights or wrongs of the action of your board, we feel that this consistent ignoring of the wishes of our clubs and their delegate has brought about a condition that is no longer tolerable to the Lower Island.

"This is by no means a new point of difference; for many years the B.C.F.A., with its Mainland majority and its meetings held in Vancouver, has represented nothing but Mainland opinion. We have now come to such a state that, in our opinion, it would be extremely unwise for the clubs of this district again to affiliate with the D.F.A. except under a separate charter, so that they may develop the game absolutely independent of the Mainland of the province.

"We beg to inform you that we hold no property, cups, funds or equipment, and we do not consider ourselves responsible for any such property.

"Signed by C. V. Milton, president; W. J. Lynn, secretary; T. Briggs, F. Oliver, J. Sullivan."

HIGH CAGERS CAPTURE PAIR

Blacks and Yellows Score Victories in High School Basketball League

Victoria High School Yellows moved up a notch higher in their race for first place honors in the Lower Island Interhigh School Basketball League when they sent Clive Kelly's band of Esquimalt High hoopsters down to a 37 to 20 defeat yesterday afternoon on the Victoria High floor. Out at Mount View High School Coach Lou Clark's Victoria High School Blacks tightened their hold on the second berth by handing the Mount View five a 30 to 16 defeat after a rough battle. At Victoria High, Chinese Students gave the Cardinals from the High a 13 to 12 trouncing after a fast exhibition game.

In the feature game at Victoria High, Yellows went into an early lead and were never topped. With Noakes running riot to cage ten points the Yellows rang up a half-time score of 21 to 4. During the second half Noakes, Ritchie and Kirkbride scored freely for the Yellows, while Wright and Davies accounted for most of the Esquimalt tallies. The game was fast and clean, with plenty of good basketball being displayed by both squads.

Roughness, especially in the second frame, featured the Blacks-Mount View fixture. The first half was a walkaway for the Blacks, with Wilson, rangy centre, and Webster, diminutive forward, looping them in from all angles, to score 13 and 14 points, respectively. Sparks, with 7 points, did most of Mount View tallying. In the second half there were so many personals and rough plays that the boys couldn't score much. The Mount View lads got by their checks long enough to score seven points while the Yellows rang up only three.

Teams and scores follow:

Esquimalt—Davies (8), Thomson (1), Freeman (2), Wright (9) and Mills.

Yellows—Ritchie (6), Noakes (16), Naysmith (5), Cliff, Hodgson, Gaunt (2), Price (2), McGregor, Kirkbride (6) and Roach.

Mount View — Brown, Stancey, Munkley (7), Reid, Hetherington, Crouch (2), Greenwood and Sparks (7).

Blacks — Wilson (13), Webster (17), Minnie, McAdam, Guelpha and Hudson.

BAYS AND NAVY TO MEET AT WILLOWS SATURDAY

Undefeated Teams In Senior Rugby To Meet for Lead

Navy and Bays Expected to Draw Record Crowd for League Game This Season—Fifth and Wanderers Will Clash at Oak Bay Park—Grounds for Other Games Announced

In what will probably prove to be the deciding match of the first half of the senior "A" Rugby League, J.B.A.A. and Navy will meet Saturday at the Willows Park, with J. B. Acland handling the whistle, it was anpounced at a meeting of the Victoria Rugby Union last evening. A large crowd is expected to see the match, as both teams will be at full strength and two of the fastest and trickiest backfields in the city will match their paces. Rugby followers' interest will not entirely centre at the Willows, however, for at Oak Bay Park two important games are scheduled. Fifth Brigade and Wanderers play at the "A" ground, with H. A. Tomalin as referee, in the other first division match, and at the "B" ground the two undefeated fifteens in the senior "B" league, Victoria College and J.B.A.A., will battle for second division honors with G. C. Grant in charge.

SENIOR "A"

J.B.A.A. vs. Navy, Willows Park; J. B. Acland.

Fifth Brigade vs. Wanderers, Oak Bay Park "A"; H. A. Tomalin.

SENIOR "B"

Victoria College vs. J.B.A.A., Oak Bay Park "B"; G. C. Grant.

Scottish vs. Wanderers, Work Point; Gray.

Fifth Brigade vs. Navy, Navy ground; Derbyshire.

INTERMEDIATE

Scottish vs. Victoria College, High School; Ley.

Fifth Brigade vs. University School, Mount Tolmie; F. A. Sparks.

All games will start at 2:45 sharp.

EXHIBITION ARRANGED

On Saturday, December 10, at the Royal Athletic Park, a trial game between the league leaders and the "Rest" will be played. This game is to aid the selection committee in selecting the McKechnie Cup team for the first match on December 26. Total proceeds will go to St. Joseph's Hospital in return for their care of injured players, and tickets are already on sale from any Rugby player. All passes have been suspended, and the city and Provincial Government are doing their share, the former by remitting their portion of the gate and the latter by agreeing not to collect any amusement tax. President Russell Ker pointed out at the meeting that it was in the interests of every player to do his utmost to assist in the sale of tickets so that a good sum could go to the hospital which had agreed to care for all injured players free of charge.

Saturday's match between the J.B.A.A. and Navy will decide the league leadership, and one of these teams will meet a picked fifteen from the remaining senior teams in the city. Both the oarsmen and the sailors have exceptionally powerful aggregations, and the game promises to produce a fine brand of Rugby.

Virtually the sole support of his mother and several brothers and sisters, Tolan signed on with the Bill Robinson negro dance troupe a month ago, it became known today, to also help him through his medical studies. Regina Roughriders Expected to Offer Stiff Opposition

Western Canada Rugby Champions Expected to Make Greatest Bid for Canadian Crown Against Hamilton Tigers Next Saturday

HAMILTON, Nov. 29 (CP).—A Hamilton football populace that has seen its Tigers tread the title trails to six Canadian and seven Eastern championships, casually smacking down two Western challenges on the way, today awaited the oncoming rush of Regina Roughriders, with a notable lack of tranquility. This hard-bitten gridiron town is as proud of its Bengals as it has been of the tilted Bengals that went before. But it wonders if the champions of the East—minus Frank Turville—can meet Regina's sixth bid in ten years for Dominion supremacy.

His ankle, badly sprained in the third quarter on the University of Toronto struggle Saturday, Turville is unlikely to be on the Tiger backfield against the big maroon challengers from Saskatchewan this week-end. Ray Boadway and Don Gardner will probably share the kicking duties.

Gardner, a sure-catching, hard-working youth from University of Gettysburg, may carry the big burden usually alung over Turville's shoulders. He has starred in Tigers' play-off contests against Sarnia and Varsity, but Regina will put him through his hardest test.

TO TAKE IT EASY

Bruised and weary from the battering they took along the line in the Varsity tussle, scraped and cut on the frozen, uneven surface of the field, Tigers will take it easy this week to be fresh for the 'Riders.

It will be the third meeting between the teams. Tigers have administered a 30-0 shipping to the Prairie titlists in 1928, then won by 14-2 the following year. Here are listed scores of the eight East-West games:

1921—Argonauts 3, Edmonton 0.
1922—Queen's 13, Edmonton 1.
1923—Queen's 43, Regina 0.
1925—Ottawa 24, Winnipeg 1.
1928—Hamilton 30, Regina 0.
1929—Hamilton 14, Regina 2.
1930—Balmy Beach 16, Regina 6.
1931—Montreal 2, Regina 0.

ROUGHRIDERS READY

REGINA, Nov. 29 (CP).—Three weeks of practice behind them and only two more workouts on strange grounds ahead, before they enter their fourth consecutive Canadian Rugby final, Regina Roughriders left tonight for Hamilton, Ont., where they meet the Tigers Saturday for the Dominion championship. Yesterday saw the team go through a two-hour grind before Coach Al Ritchie called a halt and then wound up with a chalk talk.

A wire was received from the East yesterday stating that Howie Milne would be acceptable as an official. If he is able to make the trip, Milne will be taken along.

Wednesday's stay at Winnipeg will help break the long trip to Hamilton, where the team is scheduled to arrive Friday morning in time for a workout.

There is not a single injury in the Regina camp, and every player is fit for the workout at Winnipeg Wednesday, where the 'Riders spend the day.

Howie Milne, Western official accepted by Hamilton, was unable to make the trip, a sudden spell of sickness sending him to bed a few hours before the team left. Efforts are being made to have Lyman Van Vliet, Winnipeg, appointed in his place. Players who made the trip included:

Hills, left end; Busch, right end; Thompson, left middle; Garuik, right middle; Barber, left inside; Mjogdalen, right inside; Campbell, snap; De Frate, quarter; Schave, Young, Roseborough, Harrison, halves.

Security Prices Keep Steady at New York Mart

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP).—Security and commodity markets drifted along smoothly today, but foreign exchanges, particularly those of leading nations whose debt installments fall due December 15, were sharply agitated.

Although sterling lacked support, Wall Street noted especially the break in French francs. The latter currency had been holding well, but today stumbled into a sinking spell that sent it to a new low for the year, the minimum quotation being only a short distance from the point at which gold imports by the United States would be profitable. The belga dipped under its gold level.

This strength of dollars was the most tangible development of the day in the foreign debt situation, although it was reported in London that Britain was considering a proposal for part-time of her forthcoming bill. The exact status of the negotiations remained, during market hours, the property of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and his Cabinet; meanwhile, Wall Street still marked time.

Transactions totaled only 526,775 shares.

Fractional net losses ruled for U.S. Steel, General Electric, New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio, South-Pacific, Allied Chemical, Dupont, Harvester, Case, Westinghouse and Woolworth. Tobaccos lurched downward toward the close, Tobacco "B" losing around 2 points.

The bond market backed and filled over a narrow range today and finished a rather indifferent session with relatively steady tone. Sales totaled $7,511,000, par value.

In the foreign department, British 5 1-2's provided the principal turnover with an early weakness and subsequent rally to 102, a net gain of 1-4 of a point. While some issues of Poland, Italy, Japan, Austria and Germany were firm, a heavy tone was displayed by bonds of Canada, Argentina, Australia, Denmark and France.

Railway liens were generally quiet. Issues of Canadian Pacific, Southern Pacific and Missouri Pacific were heavy.

Leading Stocks at Eastern Exchanges Are Little Changed

MONTREAL, Nov. 29 (CP). — Even with Wall Street in better mood, traders on the Montreal Stock Exchange today could not pick up enough courage to boost prices that have been declining steadily for more than two weeks. Exactly 8,000 shares were traded, with Brazilian and Shawinigan the only issues to have turnover of more than 1,000.

Montreal Power led an abortive advance at mid-day, jumping up a full point to 32. It fell back, however, and closed unchanged at 34. Other utilities were inactive.

Canadian Pacific picked up 1-8, but lost it at the close. Brazilian and Nickel were sluggish, each losing 1-8 net. Nickel halved its loss in the last minute, closing at 9 1-8. Brazilian finished the day at 9.

Canada Cement was under fire. Last week it was the common. Today it was the preferred which slumped 6 points to 19.

Canadian Car issues were irregular. The preferred declined 1-2 to 12, while the common moved up the same amount to 5.

National Breweries was one bright factor in the colorless market. It reached 16 7-8, up 1 3-8, with a turnover of only 615 shares.

Banks were quiet. Montreal picked up 2 at 190. Banque Canadienne Nationale was off 1 at 138.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Nov. 29 (CP).—The Toronto Stock Exchange passed another day in watchful waiting, and, as usual in such sessions, prices drifted to a lower level. Fewer than 5,000 shares were traded.

Except in a few instances, price changes were merely fractional. Brazilian, the heaviest trader, lost 1-4 in a turnover of 994 shares. Nickel was also off 1-4, but the other interlisted shares held better. C.P.R. and Ford "A" closing unchanged.

Oil shares were lacking in interest today, Imperial, International Pete and McColl-Frontenac sagging from 1-8 to 1-4, while Supertest was off a full point to 12 1-2.

Quite a lot of Bell Telephone stock is coming into the market and the price sagged off to 90 today, for a loss of 3 points. Consumers' Gas held at 171.

Bank of Montreal led the financial group with a 4-point gain to 189, while Commerce was off 2 and Toronto 3.

Among the issues registering gains appeared Canadian Car & Foundry, up 3-8.

TORONTO MINING MARKET

TORONTO, Nov. 29 (CP).—Despite the prevailing weakness in the industrial boards, accumulation of the leading gold stocks continues on a liberal scale, though the volume is under that of some of the sessions last week. The bearish tone in Wall Street held some of the mining leaders back, but all closed unchanged or a little higher.

Teck-Hughes took the lead today in volume with a turnover of 8,345 shares and closed at its high of 3.63. Wright-Hargreaves had a big trade also and closed unchanged at 3.05. Lake Shore, after lagging in the early part of the day, came forward sharply in the late afternoon to close with a gain of 50 at 33.75. Other interlisted golds were unchanged. British Columbia Pioneer held its ground at 4.75.

Volume was low in the base metal group and most of them showed moderate weakness. Noranda recorded a gain of 15 while Nickel fell back 25.

The penny group had some bright spots, Barry Hollinger standing out with a gain of 1 1-2 to 9. The report that a New York group is putting new money into the concern brought in a mild buying movement.

Selling of Pen continues in volume and the stock weakened to 4 today. Nordon gained 1 1-2 to 10 and Homestead was off the same amount to 17 1-2.

VANCOUVER, Nov. 29 (CP).—With interest almost at the vanishing point, trading dropped off to give the Vancouver Stock Exchange its dullest full session of the present year today. Only 6,550 shares changed hands during the listless session, with just two issues registering more than a single transaction.

MARINE and TRANSPORTATION

Eastbound Travel From Orient Ports Is Not Improving

Madison's List Light — Grain and Lumber Ships Complete Taking Cargo — Emma Alexander Due Here Tonight Southbound

Inbound from the Philippine Islands via China and Japan ports, the American Mail Line Ss. President Madison, Captain H. B. Clark, commander, arrived alongside Rithet Piers at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. The big ship remained here the greater part of the day, discharging 92,000 bundles of Japanese oranges. Officers of the ship reported usual November weather crossing the Pacific.

The Madison brought in 108 travelers in all classes, including ten first class, twenty-three special class and seventy-five steerage. Included in her cargo for Seattle were 4,000 bales of raw silk.

Travelers disembarking here included six in the special class. They were Norman J. Amos, a missionary from the interior of China, and two members of his family, Master Jaul Amos and Miss Helen Irene Amos, en route to Ontario; and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. South and Miss Freda South, Vancouver residents returning home after a pleasure visit to the Orient.

OTHERS ABOARD

Other passengers included Mark Hanna, formerly with the Paramount Pictures in Hollywood, proceeding to Europe, where he will be special representative of Douglas Fairbanks; E. C. Swan, of the Manila Electric Company, bound for New York, accompanied by Mrs. Swan; Mrs. D. M. Ide, mother of the representative of the Dollar Line at Yokohama, returning home after a visit to her son; Charles Gardner, prominent resident of Manila, en route to New York; Dr. Lora A. Isham, missionary doctor from China, proceeding to her home in the United States on furlough; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Campbell, missionaries on furlough; and Miss Season Yee, a young Chinese student, proceeding to the United States where she will enter a university.

When the President Madison leaves again on her outbound voyage, Captain R. J. Healy, who has been on a honeymoon voyage ashore, will be in command of the liner. Captain Clark is regularly the chief officer of the Madison.

Completing loading her lumber cargo here late yesterday afternoon, the Japanese freighter Ss. Shohei Maru was ready to shift to Vancouver and complete loading for Japanese ports.

Destination unknown, the British freighter Langleebrook, Captain T. Brown, will get away for sea shortly after the noon hour today, it was stated here last evening. The Langleebrook is taking 7,200 tons of grain, which will probably be delivered at a British port.

CORN SHIP DUE

From South Africa via Orient ports, the freighter Brynje is looked for alongside Ogden Point Piers some time today, according to King Brothers, who are agents for the ship. The Brynje will discharge corn here before proceeding to Mainland ports.

For California ports, the Pacific Steamship Lines Ss. Emma Alexander is due to sail from Rithet Piers at midnight tonight. The ship will arrive from Seattle at 10 o'clock, and will embark Island and Mainland travelers for San Francisco and Wilmington.

Other ships due here this week will be the Dorothy Alexander from California ports, Thursday evening; the liner Niagara, from Australia, New Zealand, Fiji and Hawaii, Thursday night or Friday morning; and the Empress of Asia, Orient-bound on Saturday.

TERRORISM PREVAILING

Occasional Bombs Used to Emphasize Sincerity of Japanese Boycott

The boycott still continues unabated in China, according to passengers arriving here yesterday from the Orient. Particularly active in Shanghai, there has been a number of bomb-throwings recently by members of the "Blood and Soul Corps for the Extermination of Traitors," and other organizations. Damaged by explosives hurled into it during September, the Hsing Tseng cloth store, Shanghai, was bombed for the second time shortly before the Ss. President Madison left the Chinese port. Fortunately no one was hurt, although the floor of the building suffered considerable damage.

A bomb was tossed into the premises of a Chinese clock shop and exploded, injuring three shop assistants. Prior to the bombing outrage, a letter from the "Bloody Group" was received by the shop, warning against dealing in Japanese goods.

Near the intersection of Kwenming and Kinchow Roads, a coolie was playing with a bomb when it exploded, wounding him and necessitating the amputation of his hand.

MILD PANIC

A mild panic overcame the audience at an open-air cinema during a Saturday night's performance, when a large firecracker was thrown among the patrons, and exploded with a loud report to the accompaniment of cries of "bomb" by someone in the crowd.

There was a letter attached to the cracker, which contained a warning to the crowd in the name of the "Examining Society of Rebuilding Association," which, from the tone of the letter, is apparently another organization self-appointed to save the nation from outsiders.

"You, animal-class, are still enjoying yourselves while your brethren in the Northeast are still fighting and dying of hunger, thirst and cold," was the self-explanatory gist of the missive when translated.

SLIGHT GAIN IN TRANSITS

October Biggest Month in Year for Vessels Using Panama Canal

During the month of October 394 commercial vessels and nine small nonseagoing launches under twenty tons measurement transited the Panama Canal. Tolls on the commercial vessels aggregated $1,714,779.06, and on the launches, $38.55, a total of $1,714,817.61.

The daily average of commercial vessels was 12.71, and the daily average of tolls collected was $55,315.45, as compared with an average of 11.77 transits and $53,275.53 in tolls for the previous month, and an average of 12.58 transits and $58,827.44 in tolls for the month of October, 1931. The average amount of tolls paid by each of the commercial transits in October was $4,352.23, as compared with $4,676.03 for the month of October, 1931.

TOLLS COLLECTED

The number of vessels making the transit in October, 1932, was the greatest since September, 1931, when 396 vessels were passed through. Tolls collected, however, were relatively slightly lower, this feature having been exceeded several times since September, 1931. In May, 1932, the amount collected exceeded that of last month by $2,600. The increase in transits is due to extra vessels introduced into the trade between Europe and North America, to take care of the seasonal movement of grain and fruit from the Pacific Northwest.

In comparison with September, 1932, October's commercial traffic made an increase of forty-one transits (11.6 per cent), and $116,513.08 in tolls (7.3 per cent). In comparison with the same amount last year, there was an increase of four transits (1.0 per cent), while tolls collected decreased by $108,871.68 (6.0 per cent).

UNITED ON MANCHUKUO

All Factions in Japan Now Stand Behind Policy of Government

While there was a considerable difference of opinion among all classes of Japanese a short time ago concerning Manchuria, the people of that country are now more united, according to Hans Cording, director of the Dal Nippon Laki Kaisha, Tokio, who was a passenger aboard the American Mail Line Ss. President Madison, arriving here yesterday morning.

The Government had been busy with propaganda, Mr. Cording stated, and the split between the military block and the factions opposing its policy had been adjusted. Money was being supplied to finance the campaign in Manchukuo by Japanese bankers through internal loans, the understanding being that the country will not be able to negotiate external loans until such time as the Manchurian question is settled.

CANNOT WITHDRAW

Japan had gone so deeply into the Manchukuo matter, it was impossible for her to withdraw, and the impression prevailing in the Orient is that she will not be influenced by any action the League of Nations may decide upon.

The position of the yen, which was at 21 1-2 cents when he left Japan, is causing some concern, although its low value had resulted in the country getting a large volume of business with foreign lands. This was particularly true of textile exports.

Mr. Cording is connected with the N.V. Ptash Company, with offices in Berlin, Germany, and Muihausen, France. He has been seven years in China and three in Japan, and is now on his way to New York and Europe.

Large Number of Men Looking For Longshore Work

Anticipating the possibility of being chosen to assist with the unloading of the Madison's orange cargo here yesterday, a large number of unemployed men were on hand when the liner docked in the morning at Rithet Piers. Only a certain number could be taken on, and the majority were disappointed.

No time was lost in getting the cargo ashore and loaded into box cars and vessel holds. The Princess Elaine was filled up and proceeded to Vancouver, and was followed by the Princess Joan, while sixteen carloads of the orange cargo were loaded on trucks and sent to the Point Ellice station. The ferry boatloads will be loaded into Canadian Pacific cars at Vancouver for distribution in the East, and the locally loaded cars will go over Canadian National Lines to Eastern Canada.

ADELAIDE TAKES RUN

NANAIMO, Nov. 29.—The Ss. Adelaide came over on the regular run from Vancouver last evening, the Ss. Elaine being engaged in transporting a large shipment of Japanese oranges from Victoria to Vancouver.

Guest: "Been long in the service of the family, Jones?"

Butler: "Yes, madame. I am now serving the third degeneration."

SURVIVOR NOW OUT OF DANGER

Seattle Man Taken From Overturned Boat Almost Himself Again

Wendell Holmes Berry, who was taken from the bottom of a capsized launch by a lifeboat crew from the Ss. Princess Charlotte Monday morning, after his three companions had given up the fight for life, and has been at the St. Joseph's Hospital here undergoing treatment, has almost recovered, and may be able to return to his home in Seattle today, all danger of pneumonia having passed, according to Dr. D. W. Graham, who is attending him.

To be with her husband, Mrs. Berry, accompanied by a daughter and an old family friend, Rev. W. Clark, arrived here yesterday morning on the Ss. Iroquois, and went direct to the hospital, where she heard of the experiences the four men underwent, and of the last moments of her favorite brother, Fred Rowley.

She had borne up bravely when the news came to her Seattle home, telling of the disaster. Her brother had offered to stay behind and help about the house, although he was anxious to accompany the party, so she had told him to go and have a good time.

HONOR GOES TO HINKLER

Johnson Memorial Prize Is Awarded to Australian Flyer for Great Feat

A transatlantic flight accomplished almost exactly a year ago, one of the greatest individual achievements in the history of aviation, is recalled in the announcement that the Johnston Memorial Prize for this year has been awarded by the Guild of Air Pilots to Squadron Leader H. J. L. Hinkler.

It was on November 25, 1931, that the tough little Australian pilot, who had already established new records during a flight in long hops from New York to Port Natal, Brazil, set his little Puss Moth cabin monoplane at the crossing of the Atlantic Ocean. No aeroplane had ever traversed the 2,000 miles of the South Atlantic from west to east; no light aeroplane had got safely across. Hinkler aimed to make landfall at Bathurst, in the Gambia. For twenty-two hours he fought his way through terrific rain and thunderstorms and the immense cloud formations that overhung the sea. Six hours he spent flying a few feet off the water below clouds that raced by just overhead; six more hours, and those during the night, he battled through cloud banks at heights up to 12,000 feet, his outward vision completely blanketed and his only guide the two compasses and his own rare instinct for direction.

MADE OBJECTIVE

When the fuel remaining in the tanks would have been enough only for another two or three hours in the air, Hinkler crossed the African coast ten miles south of Bathurst, his objective, turned north and landed on the Bathurst flying field. The close approximation of the landfall to his predetermined objective is noteworthy after a sea crossing of such length.

The Johnston Prize is offered each year for the best feat of aerial navigation in memory of Squadron Leader E. L. Johnston, the much-beloved navigating officer of the ill-fated airship R-101. Last year it was awarded to F. C. Chichester, a New Zealand amateur pilot, who shaped successful courses in his own light aeroplane over more than 500 miles of open sea between islands in the Southern Pacific by means of solar observation.

Skeena in Drydock

For cleaning and general underwater overhaul, H.M.C.S. Skeena entered the Government drydock at Esquimalt shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday morning. Yarrows Limited are doing the work, and the destroyer will be floated out again tomorrow evening.

CALLING IT "HOSIERY"

Strange to American ears to call woven underwear "hosiery!" But to the Britisher there is nothing unfamiliar about it.

In England, since 1790, the word "hosiery" has been in use for the wares sold by a hosier, as well as for the name of his business and the factory where he turned out his product. Socks and stockings, of course, regardless of whether they were made of cotton, silk or wool, were "hosiery" because they were knit goods; not as we would have it, because they clothed the feet or the legs! And for the same reason, underwear and even camps, petticoats, vests and waistcoats made by a similar process are included in England in the hosiery trade!

Mamma—Yes, dear. Why do you ask?

Dorothy—I was wondering why you didn't pay a little more and get a boy without any freckles.

Bandits Active in Raiding Towns and Wrecking Railways

Bullet Pierces Tank Car Containing Benzine and Spark Starts Explosions, Resulting in Destruction of Cars and Causing Five Deaths

While the report of the Lytton Commission dealing with the Sino-Japanese troubles is now under advisement by the League of Nations, there is plenty of trouble in Manchukuo, according to advices arriving here on the President Madison from the Orient yesterday morning. Opposition to the new regime is becoming more strenuous by organized forces, while the bandits are active in raiding towns and wrecking trains.

An attack by bandits on a Chinese Eastern Line train contains some interesting details. It was a freight train and was stopped by the bandits firing into it, an unusual procedure, and resulted disastrously. Among the cars making up the train were sixteen tank cars of kerosene and five tank cars of benzine. One of these cars must have been pierced by a bullet, a spark afterwards setting fire to one of the cars which was leaking.

CARS EXPLODED

The cars blazed up, those with benzine exploding and sending burning matter in all directions, with the result that eight flat cars of timber, four cars of household effects, one sanitary car and one with refugees, all were destroyed. The engine and some seventeen cars, in some miraculous manner, became detached from the burning mass, getting away safely. The blaze and the explosions so frightened the bandits that they all made off into the woods, not attempting to loot or kidnap any of the refugees or railway crew.

The breakdown gang which hurried to the spot in a special train found five dead bodies of refugees and eleven injured. The railway track had been destroyed for a distance of 200 kilometres, the total loss to the company being in the neighborhood of 250,000 gold roubles, making the Chinese Eastern Railway losses about 2,000,000 gold roubles this year. The damage was done after the train had crossed the frontier from Russia.

Early in November three railway employees were shot to death and three more burned when a party of sixty mounted bandits carried out a daring surprise attack on the important junction of Saupingkai, on the South Manchuria main line.

VOLUNTEERS ACTIVE

Twenty thousand Chinese volunteers are active about Ihsien, near the Jehol frontier. Minor skirmishes in this area, together with the Chinchow troop concentration at Chaoyang Temple, are causing a state of considerable uncertainty on the Manchukuo-Jehol frontier. Japanese airplanes continue to observe on the Jehol border to the perturbation of the Chinese commanders controlling Jehol. Chinese volunteers are summoning assistance from Heilungkiang with a view to insuring the defence of Jehol.

Chinese volunteer commanders have informed the Peiping Government that Manchukuo is enlisting thousands of Mongolian bandits, with whom they will launch attacks on Jehol when the opportunity arrives. The situation in Western Pungtien remains tense, with hundreds of wealthy Chinese residents leaving weekly for China proper, evacuating Suihunghsien and districts in the vicinity of Shanhaikwan.

Imperial Bank Reports Strong Liquid Position

Percentage of Quick Assets Increased From 53.6 to 56.1 During Year—Profits Adequate to Meet All Requirements and Leave Surplus

The annual statement of the Imperial Bank of Canada is always of particular interest in financial and business circles as it is the first statement of our chartered banks to appear, covering the past twelve months' business activities in Canada. The statement of the Imperial Bank covers the twelve months ending October 31 last.

It is gratifying, therefore, to observe that notwithstanding the difficulties in business administration during the past twelve months and as well the greatly reduced volume of turnover that the bank's earnings have been well maintained.

Its quick assets in ratio to public liabilities are at a higher percentage than a year ago. Current loans reflect the contraction in commercial enterprise, but fully meet present requirements of commerce and industry.

The bank's profits of $1,205,335, while slightly less than in the previous year, were entirely adequate to all requirements and allowed of carrying forward in profit and loss account $544,743.51. After payment of dividends amounting to $805,000, contributing $7,500 to officers' guarantee fund and $40,000 to officers' pension fund, $250,000 was written off bank premises. Provision of $150,000 was made for depreciation in securities and $170,000 was provided for Dominion Government and other taxes.

Deposits quite naturally show a reduction as compared with a year ago, but stand at the considerable figure of $99,712,531. Deposits bearing interest are $83,327,715, and non-interest bearing deposits, $16,384,815.

Liquid assets total $62,876,628 and are of 56.1 per cent of public liabilities, as against 53.6 per cent in the last annual statement. Cash assets are $19,675,378, or 17.5 per cent of liabilities to the public, compared with 16.9 per cent a year ago. Total assets stand at $127,792,665.68.

Dominion, provincial and other high-grade securities are shown in the statement at a total of $19,675,338.

Current loans are $57,468,654, compared with $65,108,364 in the previous year, while noncurrent loans are slightly less than a year ago at $220,953.

The bank's paid-up capital remains at $7,000,000 and reserve fund at $8,000,000.

Montreal Produce

MONTREAL, Nov. 29 (CP).—The 1932 cheese export season from Montreal to the United Kingdom closed today with the sailing of three boats carrying an aggregate of 10,654 boxes of eighty-five pounds each. A total of 934,051 boxes were exported this season, the largest quantity in three years. Last year total shipments were 908,925 boxes; in 1930, 849,513 boxes were exported, and in 1929, 940,484 boxes. The only discouraging aspect of the season was the small margin of profit realizing during the season.

Cheese prices on the produce and dairy market were unchanged today. Ontario current receipts were quoted at 8 1-4 to 8 3-4 cents, Ontario Septembers at 10 1-2 cents and Quebec Septembers at 10 cents a pound.

A better tone was experienced on the egg market. On spot carlots or less of Ontario or British Columbia fresh extras were quoted at 48 to 50 cents, firsts at 41 to 43 cents, pullets at 39 to 42 cents and seconds at 30 cents a dozen. For shipment, British Columbia fresh extras were 41 cents; firsts 36 cents, and pullets, 35 cents a dozen, f.o.b., which would add on 5 1-2 cents a dozen for delivery here.

Butter was unchanged at 21 to 21 1-4 cents a pound for carlots or less of No. 1 finest grass-make.

Toronto Produce

Eggs—Extras, 42; firsts, 37; seconds (cracked), 20; pullet extras, 31. Cream, No. 1 (f.o.b. and off truck), 9c a pound.

Butter, No. 1 solids, 21c a pound.

Potatoes, 50c per bag.

What Today Means to YOU!

by MARY BLAKE

"SAGITTARIUS"

If November 30 is the date of your birth, the best hours for you on this date are from 6:30 a.m. to 7:15 a.m., from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. and from 7:45 p.m. to 8:45 p.m. The danger periods are from 11 a.m. to 12 a.m. and from 5:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Influences astir on this November 30 will make it a very oppressive day. People generally will be physically and mentally sluggish. Time will hang heavily and little will seem to be accomplished. Those engaged in creative pursuits will find a great dearth of ideas. Affairs of the heart will fare badly for both parties will seem unresponsive.

The child born on this November 30 will be physically active and mentally alert. It will love to roughhouse and will be most playful. At school it will do unusually well, not because it enjoys the studies, but because it will thrive on the acclaim that comes to those who lead their classes. Guard it against conceit. These children will not make friends easily, for they are of a too critical nature.

Born on November 30, in all probability you have a very wholesome outlook on life. Your health is very good and you love the outdoors. You are a very religious person and your spiritual development is so advanced that you are able to perceive far more of the beauties of the world than are discernable to the average person.

You have a great many friends if your birthday is on November 30. Yours is a very easy-going nature. You are inclined to be too sensitive and retiring and you love the beautiful. You should do well for yourself in some line of creative endeavor. You are inclined to be at times too idealistic, but usually you are brought back to earth by a very decided practical side of yourself which makes itself apparent on occasions.

As a parent, you are inclined to be too lenient with your children, though never to the point of allowing them to become spoiled. You will find a good deal of friction in your marital affairs, but nothing of a serious sort. You are too sensible to allow any petty differences or difficulties to magnify themselves.

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

By J. P. Alley

with FLU in the air . .

don't take chances with COLDS! . . .

WITH many cases of flu reported in this locality, it is doubly dangerous to take chances with colds. Unless checked quickly, colds tend to pull down the body resistance and may pave the way for an attack of flu with all its serious complications.

1 Don't Wait for a Cold to Develop. At the first sign of stuffiness or irritation in the nose or throat, snuff some Vicks VapoRub up the nose. Repeat as needed during the day. This will often check a cold at the start.

2 If a Cold Has Developed, don't neglect it. At bed-time, rub the throat and chest vigorously with Vicks, spread on thick and cover with warm flannel. If the head is clogged with mucus or there is much coughing, melt a spoonful of Vicks in boiling water and inhale the steaming medicated vapors.

(If possible, rest in bed until the cold is broken. This helps to maintain body resistance and to throw off the cold more quickly.)

Colds Doubly Dangerous Now!

SCOUT TOY SHOP IS OPENED HERE

Local Boys Prepare for Big Task of Providing Needy Children With Christmas Gifts

To continue the praiseworthy work of providing needy children with Christmas joys, which they started last year, Boy Scouts of Victoria have again established a toy repair shop in the centre of the city, where they are now receiving donations of toys.

The office this year is at 1229 Government Street, close to last year's shop, and anyone desirous of aiding the Scouts in their work are asked to call at the office or communicate with Scout officials and arrangements will be made to call for the toys.

Major J. B. Hardinge is chairman of the committee in charge of the work this year, and is making an urgent appeal to the citizens to co-operate to the greatest extent to cope with the great need. Last year the Scouts were able to bring joy into the lives of hundreds of local kiddies during the festive season, and it is their earnest desire to further the work this year if possible.

Officials of the local Scout association are giving unsparingly of their time in supervising the work, which consists of repairing painting and remodeling toys.

Trapper Drowned In Island River

Hugh W. Cramb, a trapper who had engaged on the Gold River, West Coast of Vancouver Island, this Fall, was reported drowned, in advices reaching the Provincial Police yesterday from P.M.L.8, provincial police patrol boat.

The fatality occurred on Saturday, when Cramb and Andrew Morod, of Banfield, were in a canoe which capsized on the Gold River. Cramb disappeared in swift water, his companion managing to make his way ashore. The drowned man is believed to have had relatives in England and Winnipeg.

WILL PROTEST USE OF SEINES

Port Alberni Council Objects to Use for Sockeye in Canal

PORT ALBERNI, Nov. 29.—A very short meeting of the city council was held last evening, the chief discussion being relief matters. Mayor David Warnock stated that something must be done to protect the fishermen of the Alberni Inlet from the seiners. For years this water has been reserved for gill net fishermen but was now open to the seine boats. It was useless for the Government to spend thousands of dollars in an endeavor to keep the sockeye salmon run in robust condition if the seiners could come in with their huge nets and trap all the fish. The matter will be taken up with the deputy minister of fisheries at Nanaimo next Saturday and the city council will make a strong protest against the inlet being thrown open to the seine boats.

DRAINS MUST WAIT

The medical health officer wrote to the council calling attention to certain open drains which need to be fixed. It was decided to hold the matter off until the first of the year.

It is expected that Mayor David Warnock will seek re-election at the coming municipal contest, although he has made no definite statement. Alderman Deshaw, who is retiring, will not seek any municipal honors, he definitely stated last evening. Alderman Fleming and Alderman MacMillan, who also retire this year, are expected to seek re-election.

Submarine Cable Break Cause of Temporary Delay

PORT ALBERNI, Nov. 29.—The submarine cable of the Government Telegraph across the mouth of Frankiln Creek has been broken, throwing the telephone and telegraph service to points as far north as Nootka into disruption. A new cable has been rushed her from Vancouver and will be laid immediately.

At present a temporary service has been arranged whereby messages are sent down the canal as far as Ritherton Bay via the Bamfield line and are then taken across the water by a boat to Kildonan where they are again relayed north. This is for telegrams only, the telephone service being definitely suspended.

IS BOUND OVER TO APPEAR IF CHARGED

NANAIMO, Nov. 29. — Charged with perjury in connection with the recent investigation into the circumstances of a fire which destroyed the Fashion Shoppe operated by her, and four other buildings on Commercial Street on July 31 last, Mrs. Lillian Malaharis was today bound over by Magistrate Beevor Potts on one surety of $1,000 to appear if any other charge is laid against her by the Attorney-General. V. B. Harrison prosecuted and Arthur Leighton and Lionel Beevor Potts appeared for the defence.

RURAL DEANERY CHAPTER MEETS

Discuss Social Service Work and Religious Instruction in Schools

NANAIMO, Nov. 29.—With Canon H. V. Hitchcox in the chair a meeting of the chapter of the Nanaimo Rural Deanery was held yesterday morning and afternoon in St. Paul's Rectory. Among those present were Canon Vernon of the Social Service Council of the Church of England in Canada, Ven. Archdeacon Howcroft, Ladysmith; Rev. B. Eyton Spurling, Cedar; Rev. E. O. Robathan, Chemainus; Rev. E. M. Willis, Shawnigan Lake.

Canon Vernon gave an interesting account of the work the Social Service Council was doing in the unemployed relief camps in Eastern Canada and British Columbia.

Among other things discussed was the introduction of some form of religious instruction in the public schools, and it was felt the first step should be to bring about some concerted action through the ministerial associations.

Ven. Archdeacon Howcroft extended an invitation to hold a meeting at Ladysmith on January 30, when matters arising from the agenda of the annual synod could be discussed by the clergy, lay delegates and delegates to the rural deanery conference.

NANAIMO COUNCIL IS DISSATISFIED

City Fathers Consider Government Scale of Relief Allowances Entirely Inadequate

NANAIMO, Nov. 29.—The regular meeting of the local council was held last evening with Mayor Barsby presiding.

The scale of relief allowances as drawn up by the committee of the Executive Council on Unemployment was received and on motion of Ald. Inkster was filed. Ald. Inkster, in speaking to the motion, said "Not one alderman on the board was in sympathy with the scale, feeling it was entirely inadequate, but, as it was apparently the last word on the subject by the Provincial Government, he supposed it could do no good if they discussed it until midnight."

Ald. Dixon thought it should be thrown into the wastepaper basket and the city charter turned to the Government and let them run the whole thing.

"THE LAST STRAW"

Ald. Kerr said it was the last straw. The Government will pay private corporations the cost of water, but not municipalities who own their own waterworks. There was only one thing to do, and that is to cut off the water of outsiders who are in arrears with their water rates, and thus throw the burden upon the Government.

The Mayor said it meant adding to the overhead cost of the city by making them responsible for looking after single men. They had already been doing a lot of Government work in the administration of direct relief, and this meant still more overhead.

A report of the unemployment committee was received and the recommendations were adopted on motion, with the mayor and city clerk to add any further protest made necessary by the schedule of relief rates submitted earlier in the evening.

The report recommends that a strong protest be sent to the Provincial Government against the scale of relief which is to go into effect December 1.

Also that any case of destitution arising from the inadequacy of the new scale of relief should be borne by the Provincial Government, as no funds are available to take care of such cases.

Ald. Kerr thought a copy should also be sent to the executive of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, to further strengthen their hands when meeting the Government, the council agreeing.

Alderman Cavalsky and Alderman Inkster were appointed to act with the mayor as a Court of Revision for 1933.

TO DISCUSS IMMORALITY

A request from the Women's Temperance Union for a delegation to be permitted to address the council to discuss immorality in Nanaimo was granted on motion of Ald. Dixon, the mayor to set the date. Next Monday evening was set by the mayor to receive the delegation.

EFFECT OF GLAND ACTION OUTLINED

Far-Reaching Influence of Personality Is Described to Club Members by Dr. T. M. Ling

The far-reaching influence of gland action on personality and physical and mental make-up of a human being were described by Dr. T. M. Ling to members of the Round Table Club at their dinner meeting last night. Dr. Ling has made a study of this work and explained that he was giving the viewpoint of a medical man and physiologist.

The speaker traced back through history the various physical stages of man when the build of the human differed greatly at certain periods. There were underlying factors which accounted for these variations, he said, and one of these was gland action.

DESCRIBES GLANDS

Dr. Ling described four principal glands of the body and the work which they did, emphasizing the predominating features in cases where there was little co-ordination between the glands. There is considerable similarity in influence of gland action on human beings and animals. The glands, Dr. Ling continued, act as a board of directors on the personality of the human.

If there were full co-ordination, then the person would be normal, but if there were no co-ordination there would be a gross feature predominating. The effects of overwork or of failure of action by the glands, on the human being, were explained.

In discussing the types which gland action produces, Dr. Ling referred to Napoleon, showing how change of action in the pituitary gland altered the great military leader in later life. The difference in his activities in early and late life were evidence that such a change had taken place, Dr. Ling pointed out. In a similar manner he explained how Florence Nightingale's life had been affected the same way. In conclusion, the speaker pointed out that gland action was only one aspect of changes in personality, for environment and heredity also had a great bearing on the type of human being.
